Expenses of M.P. Paid in Bren Contract Talks

Hahn Tells at Inquiry How H. Plaxton Went to London
Cheques for $1,250

OTTAWA (CP)—Two cheques by which payment of $750 and $500 were made to Hugh Plaxton, Liberal M.P. for Toronto-Trinity, by Cameron, Pointon and Merritt, Toronto stock brokers, were filed at the Bren gun inquiry today by Hon. J. L. Ralston, K.C., commission counsel.

One was dated October 22, 1936, and the other December 22, 1936. The payments, according to earlier evidence, were recorded on the books of Cameron, Pointon and Merritt as expenses incurred by way of traveling on behalf of the John Inglis Co. Limited, which now holds a contract to make 7,000 Bren light machine guns for the Canadian government.

Criticism of this contract and of Hugh Plaxton's connection with it in an article by Lieut.-Col. George Drew, K.C., published in Maclean's magazine, led to the inquiry under Mr. Justice H. H. Davis as a royal commissioner.

VOYAGE TO BRITAIN

On or about October 26, 1936, Major J. E. Hahn, president of the Inglis Co., left for England in company with Hugh Plaxton and Gordon Plaxton, he told Aime Geoffrion, K.C., Montreal, chief counsel for the Inglis Company.

"What were the arrangements for payments," Mr. Geoffrion asked.

"We decided, obviously, to pay Hugh Plaxton's expenses. We couldn't ask him to come along without paying his expenses," Major Hahn explained that Gordon Plaxton had other business in England and his expenses were not paid. The cheque for $750 was an advance on Hugh Plaxton's expenses, and the $500 cheque was in payment of the balance after his return.

Mr. Geoffrion observed the record should show it was to obtain English orders the group was going to England.

LOGGER KILLED IN COLLISION

Ernest Furlanite, an employee of the Englewood Logging Company, was killed and four other workmen were injured in a collision between a speeder and a locomotive yesterday.

The crash occurred on the company's logging line and Furlanite was killed instantly. A report to divisional headquarters of the B.C. Police here gave no detail of the accident, but stated Constable J. Howe of Alert Bay was investigating and an inquest would be held tomorrow.

The injured men were in hospital at Alert Bay today. Officials of the safety branch of the Department of Labor and the Department of Railways will attend the inquest.

FRUIT AGENT SENT

VANCOUVER, B.C. (CP)—W. A. Middleton, formerly of nearby Coldstream, B.C., will sail from Montreal tomorrow on the liner Duchess of Bedford for London, where he will take up his new duties as assistant fruit trade commissioner.

ALBERTANS FIGHT TO SAVE HOMES

Settlers Put Up Stiff Battle Against Forest Fires in North

EDMONTON (CP)—Settlers are putting up a hard battle against forest and bush fires threatening their homes in the area west of Barrhead, Alta., 100 miles northwest of Edmonton, it was reported today by J. A. Hutchison, assistant director of forestry for Alberta.

Meagre telephone reports on the fire situation were received by Mr. Hutchison. Yesterday 30 families were forced to flee their homes as the smoke swept down on them, but so far there have been no reports of homes being damaged by the fires.

The whole country in the Athabasca and Peace River sections is dry and pitted with smouldering ground fires which, in a high wind, might be fanned into dangerous outbreaks, said Mr. Hutchison.

Board Will Hear Island Power Plan

Harnessing of the hydro power of Campbell River and the erection of a big rayon pulp plant at Duncan Bay rests on an application which will be considered by the provincial water board before the end of November.

The application is in the name of the Deep River Development Company. Besides asking for the waterpower rights it is seeking land for a power plant site on Campbell River just below Elk Falls.

The project would also include a dam above the falls to control the level of lower Campbell Lake. In considering the application, the provincial water board will deal with the problem of preserving the beauty of the region if the power development goes ahead.

Proposes Vote of No Confidence

Launching his first attack on the Pattullo government since being named leader of the Opposition, R. L. Maitland, K.C., Conservative chieftain, moved a vote of confidence motion in the Legislature this afternoon.

Submitted as an amendment to the main address, Mr. Maitland's motion came at the end of his speech in the debate, in the following terms:

"That this House regrets that the administrative policy and action of the government has failed to adequately deal with the problems of farming, roads, unemployment and municipal aid, having regard to the great increase in the amount of taxes and revenue now being collected by the government from the people of British Columbia."

RAIL WORKERS' HOURS

LONDON (AP)—The governing body of the International Labor Office voted today to call an international conference next month to deal with shorter hours for railway workers. Employers' representatives voted against the proposal. The place of the conference has not yet been decided.

U.S. Demanding Japan Continue China Open Door

Washington Insists Interference With Business Be Ended
Violations of Mail

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States government has told Japan in a strongly-worded note to stop "unwarranted interference" with American rights in China.

The 3,000-word statement, presented by Ambassador Joseph Grew in Tokyo October 6, but made public only today, demanded continuance of the "open door" policy in the Orient.

An early reply was requested. The unofficial interpretation here was that if a favorable answer did not arrive soon, relations between the two countries would become strained.

The United States accused Japan of seeking to make another Manchukuo out of the portions of China she has occupied, and listed a long series of violations of United States business and property rights.

The note charged Japan with trying to monopolize all trade in China through setting up pseudo-Chinese monopolies; with manipulating the currency in north China; with altering the tariffs; with keeping United States business men from their properties; with censoring and interfering with American mail and telegrams at Shanghai.

It called Japan's changes in the customs offices "arbitrary and illegal assumptions of authority for which the Japanese government has an inescapable responsibility."

CLOSING DOOR

All these violations, said the note, "indicate clearly that the Japanese authorities are seeking to establish in areas which have come under Japanese military occupation general preferences for, and superiority of, Japanese interests, an inevitable effect of which will be to frustrate the practical application of the principle of the open door and deprive American nationals of equal opportunity."

NOT READ IN JAPAN

TOKIO (AP)—The United States note demanding "unwarranted interference" with American rights in China be stopped, will not be published in Japan. Although the note specifically requested a prompt reply, the Japanese Foreign Office said no definite date for answering it had been set.

Sources close to the government disclosed Japan would take a "determined stand" in negotiating with foreign powers over rights and privileges they have enjoyed in China.

Informed Japanese, referring to the prospect of negotiations with third powers after peace has been restored, declared foreign concessions and settlements in Shanghai, Canton, Hankow and Tientsin would be of particular concern.

London Times Copies Seized in Germany

BERLIN (CP-Havas)—Copies of the London Times were seized here today for the fourth time in a week. Reason for the seizure today was believed to be an article describing the fate of anti-Nazis who have been compelled to remain in those parts of Czechoslovakia taken over by Germany.

Bluenose Cup Missing

BOSTON (AP)—The silver cup emblematic of the North Atlantic fishermen's championship could not be found today as the race committee assembled to make its presentation to Captain Angus Walters, whose Nova Scotia schooner Bluenose retained the trophy by defeating the Gloucester L. Thebaud of Gloucester in a three-out-of-five series.

Spluttering in anger, Captain Walters said: "That cup must be found—or else."

No sooner had the captain regained his composure than he was notified by a nervous race committee that the $3,000 prize money, part of the original debt of gift, likewise was not immediately available.

The conference room quieted down somewhat when Captain Walters confirmed a rumor he would take as his bride in the near future Miss Mildred Butler

Japan Celebrates But Told China Fight To Be Long

Demonstration on Hankow's Fall; More Sacrifices
Tokio Sirens Shriek

TOKIO (AP)—Shrieking sirens Thursday night opened a national celebration of the capture of Hankow. It was expected to last a week.

War Minister Lieut.-Gen. Seishiro Itagaki, however, told the nation "the conflict has just begun."

"The armed dispute between China and Japan will be little affected by the fall of the Wuhan area," Gen. Itagaki declared in a statement on the Yangtze valley victory.

"... The victory should not relax the nation's mind. The people must devote all efforts to ward long-term construction. ... The only way to console the spirits of the fallen is to attain the objectives of our holy crusade and thereby meet the expectations of the throne."

Tokio celebrated the capture of China's erstwhile provisional capital with none of the spontaneity of the rejoicing over earlier victories.

The prevailing atmosphere was one of relief rather than extreme jubilation.

Sir Robert Leslie Craigie, British ambassador, was scheduled to reopen lengthy conversations Friday with Renzo Sawada, new vice-minister for foreign affairs.

Job-buying to Be Halted

Pearson Plans Intensive Campaign Against Practice

The B.C. Department of Labor will show no mercy in prosecuting people who make money from employees so they can hold their jobs, Hon. George S. Pearson, Minister of Labor, said in a statement today.

After winning the first conviction of his kind at the Nanaimo Assizes yesterday, Mr. Pearson announced an intensive campaign to halt the practice.

"Furthermore," he said, "we are of the opinion there is a great deal more of it going on, usually by employees in key positions, but sometimes even by employers. This is particularly so because of the Chinese custom of getting work through compradors."

"We're bound to stop it. If we think we have evidence justifying action there will be no mercy in prosecutions."

"I regard this as one of the most contemptible things a person can do."

"We are putting advertisements in Chinese papers telling them that they need not and should not pay money to compradors to get jobs and we hope to stamp out the practice entirely."

Plane School Burned

LONDON (AP)—Fire destroyed the modern Royal Air Force training school at Woodley airbase, near Reading, last night with damage estimated at $150,000.

Long Christmas Week-end Sought

But No Decision Reached On Request for Two-day Holiday

A final decision has not been reached by the government whether two days' holiday should be allowed retail stores at Christmas time, Hon. George S. Pearson, Minister of Labor, said this morning.

The Retail Merchants' Association of Vancouver has wired the labor department proposing that the Monday and Tuesday following Christmas be made holidays, but that extra hours of labor be allowed in the week previous for the Christmas shopping rush.

By statute Christmas Day and Boxing Day are public holidays, but since Christmas falls on a Sunday this year, this would allow only one actual extra day of holiday. Stores are proposing that the Tuesday be declared a holiday so that clerks will have a good rest over the holiday. This would permit of a three-day Christmas week-end.

Earl Stanhope Admiralty Head

Named to Succeed Duff Cooper in British Cabinet Post

LONDON (CP)—Earl Stanhope today was appointed First Lord of the Admiralty to succeed Rt. Hon. Alfred Duff Cooper.

Earl De La Warr will replace Lord Stanhope as President of the Board of Education.

These were the only changes Prime Minister Chamberlain made in his cabinet today, a successor to the late Lord Stanhope in the Dominion Office not being announced.

The Admiralty post was vacated October 1 by Mr. Duff Cooper, who resigned when he could not support the Munich agreement.

Both Lord De La Warr and Lord Stanhope already were in the cabinet. Mr. Chamberlain, therefore, still has two vacancies to fill, the Dominions office and the Privy Seal portfolio.

It was understood, however, that Malcolm MacDonald, Colonial Secretary, would combine the Dominions secretaryship with his own portfolio for the time being.

AT PALACE

Both Lord Stanhope and Lord De La Warr attended a Privy Council held by the King at Buckingham Palace and were believed already to have taken the oath of their new offices.

NEW CHALLENGE TO BLUENOSE

Thebaud's Skipper Dares Capt. Angus Walters To Heavy-wind Race

GLOUCESTER, Mass. (AP)—While Captain Angus Walters, skipper of the victorious Canadian schooner Bluenose, was in Boston conferring with the race committee in regard to prize money and the missing international Fishermen's Trophy, a new challenge was hurled today in behalf of the vanquished challenger, Gertrude L. Thebaud.

Captain Cecil Moulton, who skipped the Thebaud yesterday in the concluding three out of five title series, dispatched the following telegram to Capt. Walters:

"I hereby challenge you to race over your own course in a breeze of 25 miles an hour velocity or more, you and I to put up $500 each and race vessels under deed of gift. Please advise immediately. Put up or shut up. Winnings to go to winning crew."

Gas Price Unchanged Despite Premier's Edict

Claims Powers Exceeded
Senator Farris Argues for Test of Validity on B.C. Oil Control Act; Wismer to Reply

VANCOUVER (CP)—Senator J. W. de B. Farris, K.C., argued before Mr. Justice A. M. Manson here today that inherent "rights" of British Columbia's major gasoline companies should not be "ruthlessly destroyed" by a government-ordered retail price reduction before validity of the provincial coal and petroleum control board act is tested in the courts.

Senator Farris, counsel for nine of the companies, was representing his clients in Supreme Court chambers at argument on whether a temporary injunction granted the companies by Mr. Justice Manson last Monday should be continued.

The injunction ordered the provincial fuel board to desist from making further orders or enforcing orders already in effect. The British Columbia government last Friday approved a board order reducing the price of gasoline in the province from three to six cents.

THE CHIEF ARGUMENT Senator Farris used was that the provincial government in drawing up the fuel control legislation had exceeded its authority, entering the field of the Dominion Government by attempting to regulate trade and commerce.

"My instruction from my clients were to make clear their anxiety to obtain an early opinion on the legality of the legislation in question," Senator Farris said.

"This present court (Mr. Justice Manson in chambers) has not sufficient jurisdiction to decide that. All Mr. Justice Manson has to decide is whether this matter is of sufficient importance to see that every step is taken to forward that determination."

"Also we ask that in the meantime the inherent rights of the oil interests not be ruthlessly destroyed."

The senator argued that up to the present time there had been no particular rush to bring about control of the industry. The report of Mr. Justice M. A. MacDonald, commissioner who investigated the coal and petroleum industries for the provincial government, had not been completed for several years.

"Now it is asked that this injunction be discontinued so the government can get its pound of flesh the very first day," he said.

Sensor Farris read numerous extracts from the MacDonald report, on which he said the Coal and Petroleum Act had been based. The act was passed at the session of the Legislature held last fall.

FEDERAL PROBLEMS

"The act was based on the report," he suggested to Mr. Justice Manson, "yet the whole report indicates a dovetailing in of federal tariffs and federal problems in the matter dealt with."

Mr. Justice Manson interposed: "The point you are trying to get across is that the province and the Dominion must keep their jurisdictions entirely separate, and they have not done so?"

"Exactly," agreed Senator Farris.

When the court resumed at 2.30 this afternoon, Attorney-General Gordon S. Wismer, conducting the government's case, began presenting his arguments.

In a brief summary of the MacDonald report, the oil company counsel said the report found crude oil was not produced in British Columbia, whereas coal was produced here. It found that to compete with coal on the British Columbia market fuel oil prices were reduced to undersell coal. This resulted in a loss on sale of fuel oil, which was borne by increasing the price of gasoline. This was to the detriment of a British Columbia industry and profit to the producers of a foreign commodity.

"Mr. Justice MacDonald did not say to the Legislature: 'Overcome this,'" Senator Farris said. "But he said: 'The evil to be cured is to protect coal by forcing adjustment of the prices of petroleum products.'"

But the report also found that oil companies operating in British Columbia were connected with firms in the United States and other provinces. Control of petroleum products in British Columbia hence would affect companies outside the province. This modicum of control on outside interests was in the jurisdiction of the federal government.

"No matter how much control of petroleum products is related to property and civil rights (provincial jurisdiction) they can't be dealt with in so far as it deals with trade and commerce (Dominion responsibility)," the Senator argued.

"The question of controlling importation of commodities is a highly desirable thing, but it is entirely within the jurisdiction of the federal government and hence is excluded from provincial jurisdiction."

He claimed the province had "deliberately and with the fullest intention" brought in legislation that would "push back losses to companies outside British Columbia."

The present price of gasoline in Vancouver is 27 cents for standard and 29 for ethyl. The price ordered by the fuel board is three cents less, 24 cents and 26 cents. Prices throughout the province, which are based on the Vancouver price plus handling and other charges, were ordered reduced as much as six cents in some sections.

Warning on Gas Savors of Threat Provincial Price-cut Order "Not Seemly," Mr. Justice Manson Says

VANCOUVER (CP)—Mr. Justice A. M. Manson today said in Supreme Court chambers a provincial warning of infringements of a gasoline price reduction order of the Coal and Petroleum Products Control Board would be prosecuted "savoured of a threat" and as such "was not seemly."

Mr. Justice Manson's comment was made during hearing argument for continuation of an injunction restraining the board from putting its order in effect. The order, approved last Friday by the provincial cabinet, would reduce the price of gasoline from three to six cents.

Attorney-General Wismer previously had said the government had no intention to defy the court injunction, but had merely warned the people of the province that if the legislation were ultimately declared valid, the order was effective from the date it was supposed to become effective—October 26.

Mr. Justice Manson said he was "very glad to have that assurance from you, Mr. Attorney-General."

Station Men Re-main Firm While Injunction Argued

CAUCUS STIRS

When or how the price of gasoline in British Columbia will be reduced according to the provincial government's plans remained a mystery today.

While Attorney-General Gordon Wismer was in Vancouver fighting an injunction granted oil companies to restrain the government from putting its price-fixing order into effect, the cabinet here remained silent on the whole issue.

Despite a warning yesterday by Premier Pattullo that infringement of the control act would be followed by prosecution, gas station operators, advised by the Retail Merchants' Association, continued to sell at the old prices.

Asked whether he regarded this as defiance of the government the Premier replied:

"Why belabor the point while there is a court action pending. The government's policy on this matter has been stated. We will cross our bridges as we come to them."

As far as could be learned no prosecutions had been started today against operators, selling at the old prices. The government's order, calling generally for a three-cent cut in base prices, was to have gone into effect yesterday.

REVISION WANTED

Among Liberal members, especially those from up-country points, a strong drive for revision of the price-fixing order developed today.

Spurred on by protests from retail gas dealers several of them proposed to ask for a special caucus to consider the gas issue.

They were not opposed to reducing the price of gas so much as the procedure used in ordering the cut.

By fixing only the maximum retail price the government was leaving retailers at the mercy of the oil companies, they claimed, and were prepared to urge the order be revised so that the wholesale price will be fixed, or else the spread between wholesaler and retailer.

In its price order, the Coal and Petroleum Board set only the maximum retail price, with the explanation that the industry would be allowed to work out the change itself.

VANCOUVER (CP)—The Retail Merchants' Association in British Columbia yesterday advised operators of gasoline service stations to continue selling gasoline at present prices, despite a provincial fuel board order to reduce charges from three to six cents.

Over the signature of George R. Matthews, British Columbia secretary, the association circularized all service stations in the province as follows:

"Service stations throughout B.C. have all been advised that inasmuch as the oil companies are disregarding the order of the board and whereas service stations have reported that their wholesale price today has not been lowered, that it cannot be conceived the provincial government expects them to sell gasoline on a two-cent margin, and knowing that it is not the wish of the Premier, the cabinet, or any member of the government to put any retailer out of business, in order to lower the price of gasoline, that service stations trade will be well advised to retail gasoline observing their present margin on the wholesale price they may be charged."

VANCOUVER (CP)—Vancouver gasoline service stations were, with few exceptions, selling gasoline at regular prices today despite a statement by Premier Pattullo yesterday that they would be prosecuted if they did not obey a government order-in-council reducing the price by 3 cents a gallon.

Arabs Refuse To Compromise

DAMASCUS, Syria (AP)—The Grand Mufti of Jerusalem, exiled leader of Palestine's Arabs, declared today his followers had refused to compromise in their demands that Great Britain halt all Jewish immigration into Palestine.

The Mufti, who fled from Palestine into Syria a year ago, rejected the British plan for restricted Jewish immigration into Palestine as well as a scheme for proportional representation of Jews and Arabs.

Britain Seeks U.S. Peace Aid

LONDON (CP)—The British government, urgently seeking means of promoting peace, today sought to enlist the co-operation of the United States. At the same time it moved toward clearing up its differences with Italy.

Viscount Halifax, Foreign Secretary, sounded the call to the United States in the early hours of the morning. He timed his message urging that "nations sharing the same ideals should think together" so that it could be heard by the audience of the New York Herald Tribune's Forum last night.

He said there was "little real difference in the attitude of the average man and woman in Britain and America regarding the turbulent currents sweeping Europe."

"The only four nations for peace is understanding, and the first stage on that road is that nations who share the same ideals should be prepared to think together," he said.

Lord Halifax told his American audience Britain "most deeply" appreciated the efforts of President Roosevelt and Cordell Hull, State Secretary, in furthering the cause of peace.

Britain, he added, understood the United States' desire "not to be caught up in dispute and controversies which are far from your shores." Britain did not question the motives that lay behind United States neutrality legislation.

Criticism of Britain's action during the European crisis, appearing in the American press, was the best proof, he said, "that you feel as strongly as we do about the things which it is vital for the world to hold on to, if international relations are to be at all securely founded. Your criticisms, therefore, bring you nearer to us than would an attitude of indifference on your part."

ANGLO-ITALIAN PACT

Lord Halifax's address came a few hours after the Cabinet was understood to have decided at a 2½-hour meeting to place the Anglo-Italian agreement in effect about the middle of November after Parliament, which approved the agreement last spring, has an opportunity of discussing it again.

Alberta Oil Cut Challenged

CALGARY (CP)—A challenge to the Alberta Petroleum and Natural Gas Conservation board came from Model Oils Limited of Calgary today.

W. C. Fisher, managing director, announced the company would not comply with the board's latest order reducing the allowable daily production of crude oil to 11,500 barrels in Turner Valley.

Model Oils Limited operates two wells in the valley field—Model-Spooner-Reward No. 1 and Model-Spooner-Reward No. 2. It is an independent marketing company.

"We are ready to face any prosecution the board cares to launch," Mr. Fisher declared. He charged the conservation board "provides not for conservation but confiscation and expropriation."

Under the board's latest production order, issued last night and effective tomorrow, Model's No. 1 well was classed as a gas well and ordered not to produce any crude oil. Model No. 2 was given a daily quota of 181 barrels.

Mr. Fisher announced his company would continue production of 750 barrels daily in No. 2 well and 200 in No. 1.

(Power of the board to enforce conservation measures in Turner Valley already have been challenged in the courts by operators and a special session of the Alberta Legislature has been ordered for November 15 to amend the Conservation and Gas Resources Act and remove possibility of it being contested in court.)

Manion Finds Alberta Folks Not Yet Chastened

Sees Social Credit As Protest Movement Against Old Parties

Aberhart Still 'Tops'

By NORMAN MacLEOD

WINNIPEG—At the close of a week of uniformly warm and friendly receptions across prairies and on the Pacific Coast, the highlight of this western mission of the new Conservative leader remains unquestionably the 1,200 people who, in the very heart of Alberta, packed an Edmonton theatre to hear the Gospel brought to them by Reform Toryism.

That meeting should have been a case study in current Canadian politics.

By all the rules of the game, the 1,200 Albertans who attended it should have cheered Hon. Dr. Manion wildly. Not that they were necessarily Conservatives. But for the reason that they were a fair cross-section of the people with whom Eastern Canada has been sympathizing because of their three years' experience at the hands of a government founded upon a certain economic theory and manned by a crew of crack-pot fanatics.

To these people any old-party leader, whether Conservative or Liberal, should have appeared in the guise of a deliverer, and his arrival should have evoked scenes of enthusiastic mass demonstrations. In other words, Dr. Manion should have been greeted in Edmonton—the centre of northern Alberta business—with an enthusiasm akin to that which welcomed Hitler into Sudeten areas of Czechoslovakia.

LARGE BUT NOT RESPONSIVE

Well, he wasn't. The Edmonton audience was all that could be desired from the standpoint of numbers. It was generally warm and attractively hospitable. But it was fundamentally disinterested.

Certainly, it was not anti-Conservative. Dr. Manion gave it no excuse for being so. For this present tour of the new Tory Chieftain is not making a particularly partisan appeal. It is more a mission of friendly greeting to the western wing of Conservatism and the real business of party politics is not being particularly stressed. Consequently, at Edmonton Dr. Manion spoke—with the exception of a few passages touching upon the tariff—much as Mr. King might have spoken. His main thesis was the desirability and great importance of a united Canada—with Albertan citizens being prepared to forget their own problems to the extent necessary to contribute to such an end, just as the citizens of other provinces must be similarly self-sacrificing to a limited extent in the common cause of welding a basically great people into a great nation.

It was an address upon the higher plane of statesmanship. It received polite applause. But there was no suggestion in the demonstration which it evoked that the arrival of Conservatism in Alberta, or the arrival of Liberalism either for that matter, was an event comparable to the relief of Lucknow.

NOT YET READY TO CHANGE

The deduction, to any impartial observer, is inescapable. After three years of admittedly inexperienced and trying government at the hands of school teacher Aberhart and his disciples, the rank-and-file of the people of Alberta are still not chastened to the point of being ready to restate the old-line parties in power. Do not make the mistake of imagining that they believe that they are ever going to get $25 a month as a result of the application of Social Credit economic theories. If an outsider suggests to an intelligent Albertan—who really does not differ so greatly

BALLOT BOXES FLOWN TO NORTH

Plane Carries Voting Equipment to Athabasca, Alta., By-election

EDMONTON (CP)—Ballot boxes for the outlying polls of Fort Chipewyan and Fort Fitzgerald were flown north today for the Athabasca provincial by-election in a Mackenzie Air Service plane piloted by Harry Hayter.

The plane was used to assure arrival of the ballot boxes at the polls before voting day, November 7, when a successor to the late C. C. Ross, former Minister of Lands and Mines, will be chosen. C. H. Tade is the Social Credit candidate, and C. J. R. Whiteley is the Liberal candidate. Tomorrow will be nomination day.

Papers Turn Up At Spy Trial

By MARY ELIZABETH PLUMMER

Associated Press Staff Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—Federal officials who reported vital evidence in the government's spy case had disappeared were consoling today when United States Attorney Lamar Hardy, without explanation, brought the missing documents into court.

"Well, there they are," he said of a book containing photographic copies of eight letters which had been introduced as evidence in the trial of three alleged German spies.

He did not explain where the exhibits had been found. Discovery of the records quieted speculation whether spies were actually at work within the federal courthouse during the spy trial.

The photographic copies, made at the direction of the British intelligence service, were of letters sent by Guenther Gustav Rumrich, former United States army sergeant who pleaded guilty and turned state's evidence at the trial, to a German agent named Sanders in care of Mrs. Jessie Jordan at Dundee, Scotland.

In addition to the copies of seven Rumrich letters, the book contained a photographic copy of one letter written to the same address by Rumrich's brother from Prague, Czechoslovakia.

from an intelligent Canadian—that he or she must be furious at the failure of Premier Able to redeem his promise of a monthly dividend, the intelligent Albertan is likely to mildly resent the suggestion that he or she ever really believed in Premier Aberhart's ability to produce the dividend. He or she will point out that in recent months both federal and provincial by-elections have been held, long after any confidence that might have once existed in it had faded, and that the Aberhart candidates had been successful.

What, then, is the inference that is to be drawn? The writer would say that it is this:

That Social Credit in Alberta, whatever it may have been in its inception, is no longer an economic movement, but a protest movement against the old-line parties—symbolic of the loss of confidence in them by Albertan people. John I. McFarland, former chairman of the Canadian Wheat Board, is trying to whip up a unity party which will join both Conservatives and Liberals in a project to defeat Premier Aberhart. As yet its outlook for success appears to be nil. The suspicion with which the Albertan people had come to look upon the Liberal and Conservative parties individually seems simply to be united in its case.

The impression which the Albertan people give an outsider is that they know the faults and shortcomings of Premier Aberhart, that they know the faults and shortcomings of the old-line political parties, and that, since they have to make a choice they prefer to take Premier Aberhart's faults and shortcomings to the faults and shortcomings of the old-line parties.

D.B. Munro Fined $200 at Retrial

Mill Superintendent Charged With Taking Money Corruptly

NANAIMO, B.C. (CP)—After two assize court trials, one in which a 12-man jury failed to reach a verdict, D. B. Munro, former mill superintendent, today stood convicted of corruptly taking money from Oriental mill hands in return for retaining them on the Straits Lumber Company's payroll.

Mr. Justice Aulay Morrison late yesterday fined Munro $200 after the second jury of three women and nine men had returned a verdict of guilty with recommendations for leniency. In his first trial the jury could not agree on a verdict. A change of venue was then requested but this was denied by Attorney-General Gordon Wismer.

Co-ordination in Making of Guns

Hahn Says at Bren Inquiry He Urged Empire Plan

OTTAWA (CP)—At the Bren machine-gun contract inquiry here today Major J. E. Hahn, president of the John Inglis Co. Ltd. of Toronto, told how late in 1936 he went to Canada House in London and presented to Hon. Vincent Massey, Canadian High Commissioner to Great Britain, the letter of introduction given him by Hon. Ian Mackenzie, Minister of Defence. He had expected the Canada House officials to arrange an appointment for him at the War Office, but after waiting a week there was no action and both he and Hugh Plaxton appealed to the Defence Minister at Ottawa.

Alme Geoffrion, K.C., counsel for the Inglis Co., referred to previous exhibits showing the outcome of these communications which brought from the government at Ottawa a request that, for the purposes of his inquiries into Bren gun making, Major Hahn be looked on as a representative of the Canadian Government.

While the appointment was arranged for him he had not known details of the government communications on his behalf, Major Hahn said.

"The first indication I had that I was made a representative of the Canadian Government was in this court a few days ago," he said.

Mr. Justice H. H. Davis, the commissioner holding the inquiry into the company's order from the Federal Government for 7,000 Bren machine-guns, wanted to know who informed Major Hahn an appointment had been made for him with Sir Thomas Inskip, British Minister of Defence Co-ordination. He said either Mr. Massey or Lieut.-Col. G. P. Vanier, secretary of the High Commissioner's office, told him and he presumed it had been arranged by someone at Canada House.

At the interview with Sir Thomas, Major Hahn said he felt he appeared as a possible contractor and also as a Canadian citizen. He had no idea of representing the government and felt free to say what he believed was important to the position of Canada and the Empire on the broad aspects of defence.

Rogers Confers on Relief in Alberta

Federal Minister of Labor Will Leave Edmonton Tonight for Brandon

EDMONTON (CP)—The problem of transient jobless and other unemployment questions were under review today when Hon. Norman Rogers, Federal Minister of Labor, conferred with Hon. W. W. Cross, M.D., Alberta Minister of Health and Relief, and other Alberta relief branch officials.

The conference was scheduled to conclude Mr. Rogers' four-day visit to Edmonton and he expects to leave tonight for Brandon, Man., to participate in the Brandon federal by-election campaign. Dominion relief aid to Alberta at present takes the form of a grant-in-aid of $125,000 monthly and in addition there is a drought area grant of approximately $80,000 monthly.

Mr. Rogers last night addressed the Jasper-Edson federal constituency nominating convention in Edmonton.

Now Praises Kruschen

"When sciatica attacked this woman six years ago, she couldn't move without great pain. Treatment after treatment failed to help her. She tried Kruschen and got quick relief."

"Six years ago, I suffered terribly from sciatica," she writes. "I tried everything, but to no avail. Then I took Kruschen Salts. The first few doses gave quick relief. At the end of a few weeks my sciatica had gone. Now I always begin the day with a pinch of Kruschen in a glass of water. I live a strenuous life, being widowed four years ago and having a son to keep. The severe pain which is characteristic of sciatica is often due to needle-pointed uric acid crystals in the sheath of the great sciatic nerve. Two of the ingredients in Kruschen dissolve uric acid crystals. Other salts in Kruschen help nature to expel these dissolved crystals through the natural channels. (Advt.)

Col. Drew Candidate For Party Leadership

TORONTO (CP)—Leopold Macaulay, opposition leader in Ontario Legislature, announced today he would not be a candidate for leader of the Ontario Conservative Party at the December convention.

Mr. Macaulay, nominated at a party meeting here recently, said in a statement issued today: "I greatly regret the necessity of altering my decision." His withdrawal leaves only one certain candidate, Lieut.-Col. George A. Drew, K.C., author and soldier. December 8 and 9 are the convention dates.

Sir Robert Borden's Life Story

Formation of Union Government in 1917 and Discussion of Compulsory Military Service Described in Memoirs Of War-time Prime Minister to Be Published November 1

By R. K. CARNEGIE
(Copyright, 1938, by Canadian Press)

OTTAWA.

EXPERIENCE in the war-born Union Government convinced the late Sir Robert Borden of the artificial character of lines dividing Canadian Liberals and Conservatives.

In the forefront of party battles for almost a quarter of a century, Sir Robert fought on the Conservative side in the Manitoba school question, the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway issue, reciprocity and the fierce debates over naval contributions to Britain. Then, in the strain and stress of war, he organized a coalition cabinet and sat down in council with Liberals to plan Canada's supreme effort.

A decade later, from the calm of retirement, he wrote in his memoirs, to be published November 1 by the Macmillan Company of Canada, that his Union cabinet never divided on party lines. The ministers differed on many questions, but always there were Liberals and Conservatives on each side. He added:

"Perhaps the artificial character of party division in Canada was never better exemplified than in my experience of the characteristics which I encountered among the members of the new government. In the new cabinet, the most finely-crusted Tories of the old type were two men who had always called themselves Liberals and who had been prominent members of the Liberal party. I, who had been classed as an ultra Tory frequently found myself more in agreement with (Hon. N. W.) Rowell and (Hon. T. A.) Crerar, the more advanced among the Liberal element than with my former colleagues."

Borden took frequent occasion in his memoirs to express his gratefulness for the sturdy loyalty which his Liberal and Conservative colleagues gave him leadership at that time.

STEPS TO COALITION

The formation of a Union Government in October, 1917, will probably be regarded by historians as the greatest of Borden's political achievements. Sir Robert himself regarded it as one of his greatest efforts.

For more than a year the project of a coalition government had been mooted in Canada, Sir Robert, who died June 10, 1937, wrote: "Many of the suggestions took little account of the immense difficulties that confront a party leader undertaking to achieve such a consummation."

On the other hand, my position was of singular and striking difficulty. The Liberal-Conservative Party, with few, if any, exceptions, had given me during my premiership, and especially during the war, absolute wholehearted loyalty and support which it was impossible to overlook and disregard. To establish Union Government upon a secure basis it would be necessary to assign to those Liberals who rejected the leadership of Sir Wilfrid Laurier on the question of conscription an equal share (apart from the office of Prime Minister) in a Union administration.

"This would inevitably relegate to the background and perhaps altogether destroy the hopes of prominent men in my party whose legitimate ambitions for advancement could not be denied in the ordinary course."

INVITED TO OTTAWA

Throughout the negotiations Borden again and again offered to retire if someone else could be found who would be more successful in forming a government. He consulted Sir Clifford Sifton frequently and also conferred with John W. Diefenbaker, editor of the Manitoba Free Press; C. C. Ballantyne, afterwards Senator; H. W. Woods of the Alberta Grain Growers' Association, and many others for advice.

Page after page of the memoirs reproduce records from his diary written at the time. Here are a few of the entries:

"August 9—Inconclusive conference with Laurier at Government House under arrangement by Governor-General, Laurier (Sir George) Foster, (Sir Lomer) Gouin, (Lord) Shaughnessy, (Sir Clifford) Sifton and myself."

"August 10—Discussed with (Hon. Arthur) Meighen and (Hon. J. D.) Reid my suggestion to have the Governor-General call (Mr. Justice) Duff to form a Union government. Both fiercely opposed."

"August 13—Meighen reports western Liberals strong for coalition. Sifton spoke of objections to my leadership. Suggests Sir William Meredith. Colleagues are determined there shall be no change."

"August 14—Meighen and Reid strongly urge that Meredith leadership would be disastrous. Sifton came and agreed that any change of leadership should be abandoned."

"August 15—Suggested to Meighen and Reid that Sir Robert Falconer (then President of Toronto University) should be asked to form a government."

"August 17—(Hon. Robert) Rogers' resignation accepted. He says we are heading straight for destruction."

"So the diary proceeded, day by day. Here are other entries:

"September 3—Heard from Duff that Tilley would not enter government and therefore Duff could not come. Sent for Tilley; appeared to the patriot, but without effect."

In amplification of the diary, the memoirs state that on August 27 he received a telegram from J. A. Calder, Crerar, Attorney-General Hudson of Manitoba and Premier A. L. Sifton of Alberta, stating they favored Union government and creation of a war council of six, but a change of leadership was essential. They were unanimously against any change in leadership."

"In council I submitted the telegram to my colleagues and expressed to them my perfect willingness to retire in favor of any leader whose chances of success in forming a Union government might be greater than mine. They were unanimously against any change in leadership."

To the protest raised in a subsequent caucus against giving Liberals equal representation in the cabinet, Borden replied that "Canada was faced with a crisis above all party considerations; it was vital that necessary reinforcements should be supplied by compulsory military service; without this the Canadian corps could not be maintained and would feel itself betrayed; I meant to keep my pledge to our soldiers; if dissentient Liberals would come in I would give them equal representation in the government; my duty as I conceived it led me to that conclusion; they had their duty to consider and if their conception did not coincide with mine, their only course was to select another leader. There was no more murmuring and the caucus acquiesced, but there were some dissenters."

Ultimately, Borden remained as Prime Minister, and J. A. Calder, Hon. A. L. Sifton, T. A. Crerar, N. W. Rowell and Major-General S. C. Mewburn were the Liberals added to the cabinet on October 12. Other Liberals, F. B. Carvell, A. K. Maclean and Gideon D. Robertson were sworn in later.

Kipling Society

A copy of the book, "Rudyard Kipling, Craftsman," by Lieut. General Sir George MacMunn, was presented to the Kipling Society by two of its members, P. Oliver and G. R. Thomson, at their monthly meeting held Wednesday evening in the society's room over the Royal Bank of Canada and will be added to the society's library of books.

After the business session the euphoric mood, under their leader, Mrs. W. B. Chadwick, recited the "Recessional," and two of Kipling's later poems, "We and They" and "Neighbors." James McGrath gave two Indian poems, "Paget, M.P." and "The Truce of the Bear." Philip Oliver read the story "The Wrong Thing" from "Rewards and Fairies," a tale of the time of Henry VII. Mrs. Oliver read the two poems in connection with the story.

A letter of regret and appreciation has been sent from the members to P. R. Leighton, a valued member of the society, who has recently moved to Duncan.

Miss Jean Elliot will be the speaker at the November meeting.

Reduction in Charges Seen

LeBourdais Tells of Government Move to Relieve Land Settlers

Scaling down of debts owed the B.C. Land Settlement Board by settlers who took up farms years ago was foreshadowed by Louis LeBourdais, Liberal, Cariboo, in his speech in the Legislature yesterday seconding the address in reply to the Speech from the Throne.

After describing how interest charges against many of the lands had piled so high that the holders could never pay them, Mr. LeBourdais said the charges must be scaled down and account taken of labor put in by settlers on property which would never even belong to his children under the present arrangement.

He said he had learned that the special officer investigating the land settlement charges would bring down recommendations in the near future suggesting an adjustment.

Mr. LeBourdais spoke in support of the Alaska Highway project as necessary and economically sound and feasible.

He urged the protection of spawning sockeye salmon on the Fraser River from Indians who take them for food, suggesting that chum salmon could be taken from the coast and supplied to the Indians instead of allowing them to take the sockeye.

He said the proposals of Sir Henry Page Croft for a big British immigration to the central part of the province had brought new hope to the settlers there but warned against glutting rural areas with people who could not succeed on the land.

Ontario Premier Speaks As Private Citizen on Dominion's Position

TORONTO (CP)—Premier Hepburn said here he was speaking as a private citizen when he declared in an address at Bala, 150 miles north of Toronto, yesterday during ceremonies attendant on the opening of a new hydro-electric power development, that Canada must arm against the threat of Fascist aggression.

"Undoubtedly there are nations today which are bent on conquest—nations which may have a covetous eye on Canada this very moment—and it is ridiculous for us here to think we can, or should, hide behind the lion's paw or the eagle's wing," Mr. Hepburn said.

Echoing World Sentiment

RT. HON. DAVID LLOYD GEORGE TOLD an audience at London's City Temple yesterday that the "Peace of Munich" would end in a "war without friends" for Great Britain, that the agreement reached in the ancient Bavarian city was "a bad peace," and that "a bad peace is no peace at all." The war-time Prime Minister sounded this moral note: "We have had a transient peace which disregards conscience, which has trampled on good faith and honor, and we have turned a deaf ear to the cry of the oppressed."

From his desk at Washington last night President Roosevelt served notice on the world in general that the United States would brook no interference with this continent, that his country proposed to put itself in a sufficiently strong position to implement this warning with appropriate action if, and when, the occasion demanded. Although he made no specific reference to the "Peace of Munich," it obviously was uppermost in the chief executive's mind as he selected his direct allusions to world conditions—his first pronouncement on American foreign policy since the Czechoslovakian crisis. Strikingly similar in tone to many of the observations to which Mr. Lloyd George gave expression in London earlier in the day were these assertions from the White House:

"It is becoming increasingly clear that peace by fear has no higher or more enduring quality than peace by the sword; there can be no peace if the reign of law is to be replaced by a current sanctification of sheer force; there can be no peace if national policy adopts as a deliberate instrument the threat of war; there can be no peace if national policy adopts as a deliberate instrument the dispersion all over the world of millions of helpless and persecuted wanderers with no place to lay their head; there can be no peace if humble men and women are not free to think their own thoughts, to express their own feelings, to worship God."

Both Mr. Lloyd George and Mr. Roosevelt proclaimed the dictum, by implication if not in as many words, that the sort of peace the braggarts exacted at Munich has no more permanence, no more sincerity, than the word of the meekest blackmailer. These two statesmen—irrespective of the former British Prime Minister's part in the vicious Treaty of Versailles, irrespective of our neighbor's lack of co-operation in the cause of international sanity when it had the opportunity—have given voice to what is in the minds and hearts of men and women in every country of the world.

No Blarney for the Irish

WE AGREE WITH THE VANCOUVER Sun that balancing budgets these days is nothing like as easy as falling off the proverbial log. We also agree with our contemporary when it plainly tells the public that Finance Minister Hart cannot do this job for British Columbia entirely on his own hook. The Sun is gratified that the Minister's financial report—referred to in these columns yesterday—is satisfactory and encouraging. We suggested it was so because Mr. Hart has had the courage to say "No" when he has thought it poor business to say "Yes." But the Sun asks: "Has the public the sense now to support Mr. Hart in trying to hold the lid on?"

Our contemporary no doubt will recall, if it casts its mind back over the years which have elapsed since the first Liberal government met the Legislature in the spring of 1917, that Vancouver, its organizations and its newspapers, has led many processions to the public till. We do not suggest that all the requests and demands which the province's largest and most progressive city has made upon the governments which have held office "across the Bay" in those years have been frivolous or unworthy of the business acumen supporting them.

We are nevertheless constrained to remind the city of Vancouver, its active organizations and its enthusiastic newspapers and far-seeing citizens, that the requests for money that may seem desirable to make upon the guardian of the public treasury shall have due regard for the welfare of the province as a whole. For it is our view that it will require more than blarney to entice Hon. John Hart to lift "the lid" of which the Sun speaks.

Out in the Open

FORTY-FIVE THOUSAND SOCCER ENTHUSIASTS at Woolwich Arsenal's ground Tuesday saw a British team defeat a Continental European team by the tune of three goals to none. We are told the invading eleven put up a plucky fight and "several times delighted the crowd with polished footwork and clever combination." The visitors included representatives of Germany and France, Belgium and Italy, Norway and Hungary.

It is a pity Herr Hitler and Signor Mussolini could not draw a moral from these battles of the playing fields. We on this continent, of course, are so used to frequent international demonstrations of athletic prowess that the custom long ago ceased to be a topic for special emphasis. Perhaps one of these days, however, the Canadian-United States example in the realm of sport will spread in more intensive form to the crowded lands of Europe.

Football, hockey, golf, baseball, and the other hundred and one forms of healthy and competitive recreation are great levellers. They teach a brand of philosophy with which some statesmen might well interlard an outlook never meant to become warped by too much contamination with the sinister and curtained musings which are causing the world so much travail these days.

An Airport Suggestion

TIP FROM THE SIDNEY REVIEW TO the organization working for the establishment of an airport for Victoria:

"May we suggest to Victoria that the committee look into the merits of 'Site B' outside of Sidney, towards Victoria, not taken by the National Defence authorities as they wished a land and water combination. This Site B has been surveyed, levels taken, contours mapped, etc. It is a beautiful piece of cleared practically level country, very accessible to Victoria, being connected by a paved road for the intervening 14 or 15 miles (about the same distance as Vancouver's airport is out of that city). The federal government, in addition to paying one-third of the cost of the airport, might be pleased to furnish the survey details—which have cost thousands of dollars—gratis."

More Suppression Stupidity

THE BEST WAY TO FOSTER AN IDEA is to attempt its suppression. Additional proof of this long-recognized fact arises out of the recent case of John Strachey, the British author of widely-read books on current economic and social problems, who was at first denied entrance to the United States where he had been booked for a lecture tour. Issues of New York newspapers carrying the news of the final decision of the immigration department permitting him to enter the country provided he does not lecture, also carry this note in their book columns:

"As a result of the publicity given to John Strachey's detention at Ellis Island, Modern Age Books reports that it took additional orders for 8,100 copies of his new book, 'Hope in America,' between October 11 and October 14."

What the Welshman Knew

MR. LLOYD GEORGE AT CITY TEMPLE, London, yesterday: "I know something about armaments. The French Army is today the best army in Europe and the Russian Army is the greatest army in the world so far as numbers are concerned, and so far as its air force is concerned."

This suggests once more that if the Chamberlain-Daladier combination had talked in the language of the Hitler-Mussolini combination at Munich the heads of the totalitarian states would have "climbed down"—and war still would have been prevented.

The age of discretion is reached when we learn not to worry about our weight so long as we feel happy.

It is said that the new styles make women look better with their hair on top of their heads. For that matter, alas, so would some men.

Already open for business in the town of Santa Claus, Indiana, is a school for Santa Clauses. Does this mean the job is going to be harder this year?

Dealing with complaints over the cessation of the Mill Bay ferry, the Cowichan Leader comments that although it provided a convenient service, it was little used except in case of bad conditions on the Malahat or by persons traveling directly up-land from the Saanich Peninsula. "We think the government should not be asked to subsidize this service at great cost for casual traffic," the Leader says. "Since improvement of the Island Highway the major portion of the traffic follows the Malahat route."

OIL COMPANIES TELLING THEIR STORY

From Vernon News
A great deal of common sense and of logic is printed in an advertisement under the heading of "Service Stations and Your Town." The advertising is placed and paid for by the Petroleum Industries of British Columbia, an association of oil companies, the names in which are given.

An easy conversational style is used to convey to readers many facts which they may have overlooked. The paint used by the several oil companies to decorate premises or parts of plants selling their brand of gasoline, leads many persons to presume that the stations are owned by the oil companies, or if they are not owned outright, that there is sufficient financial influence to dominate and that the dealer is tied in with the oil interests.

It is misconceptions such as this the series of advertisements is designed to dispel because the oil companies have come to realize that such a mistake is liable to cost them dear. Governments are always on the lookout to tap rich sources of revenue and they may have the idea, held by many persons, that the "oil companies are filthy with gold."

Association of the names of oil companies with the advertising is the guarantee that statements made can be substantiated. Operators of service stations may be among your good friends. It should improve relations between these business men and their patrons for the facts to be made clear.

In any event so long as the advertising follows the style, particularly of the second one of the series, they will be read with interest even by those who may scoff at they read.

It is so easy to scoff, much easier than to abandon preconceived opinions. The Petroleum Industries of British Columbia have taken the straightforward method in taking the public into their confidence. It will prove intensely interesting to learn the facts.

Across the Bay

By BRUCE HUTCHISON

SOLID STUFF

AFTER THE OPENING excitement, the first day of business in this House, as usual, was rather too like warmed-over hash after the original hot roast—good, solid stuff and full of nourishment, but not what you could call thrilling.

For the job of opening the debate on the Speech from the Throne, the government always chooses two likely young supporters and loads them down with the right kind of data. Generally they are overloaded, and a little overwhelmed, too, by the solemnity of the occasion, the honor thrust upon them.

Mr. Strath, of Victoria, and Mr. LeBourdais, of Cariboo, evidently felt this repression and certainly didn't let themselves go. But they are the very type of young, serious men that our politics so badly needs—clean-cut, innocent of any party machine, in this game to try to do something for their electors, possible cabinet timber of the future, both of them.

Such men don't make purple passages in the House or headlines in the newspapers. The House, indeed, was in a peculiarly dull humor, let down after the fancy doings of Tuesday, and perhaps, if the truth were known, a little tired after dancing most of the night at the state ball.

Still, the government always puts on a remarkable air of interest when any of its followers are speaking and sometimes, as the session drags on, this is a pretty strenuous test of statesmanship. The opposition, however, under no such compulsion, sat all day Wednesday with a kind of fixed, glazed look of gloom.

MR. MAITLAND IS GLUM

MR. MAITLAND, WHO used to sit writing ribald comments in a black, loose-leaf diary, and once accurately recorded of a colleague in the Tolmie government that "there were long pauses between his sentences, nothing between the pauses"—Mr. Maitland sat glumly in deepest meditation, as if he felt the new weight of leadership pretty heavily.

Sometimes he wrote gravely in his black book not his usual jest, but some note for his speech today, one of the most important occasions of his life. He always has prepared his speeches well. On this one he will lavish everything he has of talent, experience and eloquence. Its period of incubation is evidently trying.

In this first working day of the House and of Mr. Maitland's opposition leadership, the observer might note a forecast of a possible Maitland cabinet of the future. For on his right sat Mr. Anscomb, his minister of finance, and on his left was Mr. Bruhn, moved up from the obscure depths of independence once more into the front benches as a first lieutenant and putative minister of practical politics. Mr. Paton completed the Conservative front row, which hopes to move intact from the left to the right of Mr. Speaker.

Silent and glum also was the C.C.F. and, with the uniform and tall coats of Tuesday lacking, the only note of color was the red apples of Okanagan, the scarlet Macs, that lay on every member's desk—but not for long. The House was soon munching them, having little else to munch.

STOLID AUDIENCE

MR. STRATH THUS FACED a stolid audience as he launched the debate. He covered a wide field, including the Peace of Munich (he is for Chamberlain), the war in China and the condition of our roads.

Into the mouths of debate launchers, governments always cram a great mass of information, so that every branch of the ministry may be suitably praised. Mr. Strath had the customary commendation for each department and some financial statistics which had a flavor of Mr. Hart about them. But the government had been niggardly in giving him any official policy to announce. This, no doubt, is being kept for ministerial speeches later.

The young Victoria member, a lawyer, speaks clearly, lucidly, in a well-trained courtroom manner, but makes no attempt to stir or excite. This kind of speaking doesn't flash, but it usually lasts longer in this game.

Mr. LeBourdais is another quiet fellow. He comes off the range of Cariboo and has still about him a wind-blown, cattle country look—something of the easygoing, tousled-haired cowboy come to town. You remember that not so many years ago he was wearing chaps. A good hand at a round-up, or with a guitar around a camp fire and one of the most likeable lads that the Dry Belt has ever turned out.

He talks quietly, almost apologetically, as if he disliked occupying the time of so august an assembly. He sways a little, nervously, on his feet, his notes in hand, arms akimbo, with a rather worried look, and he talks about the things he understands. About cattle and roads and the Cariboo's gold and vast deposits of Epsom salts.

Mr. LeBourdais has always been the voice of Cariboo and every aspect of it delights him with a boy's enthusiasm. Even its alfalfa inspires him to a rare flight of imagination and he tells the House that it contains a substance vital to the health of infants. Some day, says he, Cariboo alfalfa will take the place of spinach on the dinner tables and the diet lists of British Columbia.

It seemed an appropriate kind of ending for the day's proceedings. The day had a flavor of alfalfa and spinach about it—nourishing, full of vitamins, but not the kind of thing you put before company. The House went home thinking that perhaps Mr. Maitland on the morrow would provide a menu of rich fare, complete with stimulant, from cocktails to liqueur.

Fortune Surveys Roosevelt Popularity

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT is personally more popular now than he was just before his landslide re-election in 1936, a survey in the current issue of Fortune magazine reveals.

Of the persons with definite opinions, according to the survey, 65.3 per cent are now favorable to Mr. Roosevelt—4 per cent more than his majority in the 1936 election, which Fortune predicted within less than 1 per cent.

SURVEYS OTHER FINDINGS

Other findings of the survey which becomes a monthly feature with the magazine's current issue, included the following:

That the most popular of the President's advisers and cabinet members are not New Dealers.

That a very small majority of the American people approve of government lending and spending $5,000,000,000—but that there are violent regional differences of opinion.

That the public thinks Governor La Follette's National Progressive Party will have little or no influence on American politics.

GOOD OUTWEIGHS BAD

Of the persons queried by Fortune on their individual feelings toward the President, 42.4 per cent replied that Roosevelt might have made some mistakes, but the good he had done definitely outweighed the bad.

Nineteen and eight-tenths per cent declared that Roosevelt, or a man like Roosevelt, as President was essential for the good of the country.

Nineteen and one-tenth per cent said that Roosevelt might have done many things that needed doing, but that he had made so many mistakes that his usefulness was over.

4 PER CENT DON'T KNOW

Fourteen per cent regarded it as almost a calamity for the country that it must endure two more years under Roosevelt.

Four and seven-tenths per cent said they simply didn't know.

Eliminating the "don't-know" replies, the magazine found that the "good-outweighs-bad" and "essential" groups constituted 65.3 per cent of the total, as compared with 61.7 per cent whose answers were favorable to the President when a similar survey was made in October, 1936.

Presidential associates approved by the largest numbers of persons queried included, in the order named, Cordell Hull, James A. Farley, John N. Garner, Henry A. Wallace, Harold L. Ickes, Frances Perkins, Henry Morgenthau Jr., Harry L. Hopkins, Joseph P. Kennedy, Claude A. Swanson and James Roosevelt.

MOST STRONGLY DISAPPROVED

Those most strongly disapproved (in most cases duplicating names on the "approved" list) included, in the order named, Farley, Perkins, Ickes, Wallace, Hopkins, Garner, Hugo Black, Thomas Corcoran, John L. Lewis, Hull and James Roosevelt.

Discussing its findings on spending and lending sentiment, Fortune pointed out that the northeast was the only section inclined to favor spending for relief, but not for priming the pump. The northwest plains turned an emphatic thumb down on spending either for relief or for recovery.

But the southwest registered "an overwhelming welcome for federal billions," both for relief and recovery.

COMMENT ON PROGRESSIVES

On the question of the La Follette's Progressive influence, 15.9 per cent of the total opinion sampled was that it would be good, 11.1 per cent that it would be bad, 28.7 per cent that it would be nil, and 44.3 per cent was noncommittal.

"Thus," Fortune said, "only about a quarter of the nation has a positive belief that the La Follettes are going to influence the pattern of national politics either way, and a slightly greater number has a positive belief that they will not."

"Among those who do look for results from the National Progressives, there is a slight balance toward the belief that it will be salutary. This runs through the various occupations as well as the income brackets, with very little variation."

WANTS TO KNOW ABOUT COAL

To the Editor:—Gasoline is to be three cents less per gallon—so far so good! To those who run a car as little as possible at any time and practically not at all in the winter, this doesn't mean much at the moment; and to those who don't run one at all—just nothing! But with winter at hand and everyone—from the man on relief to the "Lord of the Manor" wanting coal—well, what about it? A drastic cut in the price of this commodity would be seasonable—and humane.

CRIME NEWS AT HOME

To the Editor:—According to your paper, during the last four weeks there have been 40 reports of breaking and entering in Victoria and district and not one arrested. Yet you feature a holdup in Vancouver on your front page. Why not a little attention to the citizens of Victoria who are being robbed with impunity?

FRANK GLENN.

DRAMA GROUPS

To the Editor:—As one who is very much interested in the splendid drama movement which has been developed in British Columbia may I offer suggestions of a practical nature which could be applied first in Victoria and later no doubt in other parts of the province. The object of this letter is to suggest the possibility of closer altruistic co-operation between the various drama groups:

1. Each group might notify and remind all its members of any public performance by another group.

2. Each group might arrange to avoid holding a rehearsal or meeting on the night of another group's performance.

3. Before the provincial drama festival is held, representatives of that organization might visit and address each local drama group as well as the service clubs, thus making sure that the festival is realized by those who are likely to be interested.

The local press will be more likely to give the provincial festival strong support if it is found that all those concerned are themselves actively engaged in supporting it.

CHINESE PAGEANT

To the Editor:—Another thrilling Chinese pageant will be presented on Tuesday evening, November 1, at the Victoria High School, when Victoria will be given another chance to view the famous seventeenth century classical costumes.

This Golden Dragon Pageant first made its appearance in Victoria during the Provincial Drama Festival, through the Chinese Canadian Youth Forum.

Last summer, by public demand, it was repeated at the Victoria High School auditorium before a record-breaking attendance. In view of the tremendous demands for another performance, it is now being brought to Victoria for another spectacular presentation for one night only on November 1.

This will be an entirely different performance—and a much more colorful one at that.

The Chinese Canadian Youth Forum provincial council has arranged to absorb all expenses.

In addition, the entire proceeds will be given to the Queen Alexandra Solarium at Cobble Hill, in aid of the crippled children of British Columbia.

Victoria would never forget this marvelous spectacle when they turn out to see it at the High School auditorium.

MAN'S INHUMANITY

To the Editor:—Both M. E. Bird and Mr. Walkden wrote interesting and timely letters, which ought to make us think much deeper than our light and whimsy minds are accustomed to. I like Mr. Bird's statement where he says, "A Fascist victory in Spain would force Spain back to pre-war conditions of merciless exploitation, ignorance, bull fights and poverty..." I think he's got something there.

Now, I am a just man, not a "Red" nor yet a sympathizer of Russia. I have looked recently at a book by Capa, "Living Unto Death," that surely bears out Mr. Bird's analysis. It is a sad appalling tragedy—this man's inhumanity to man. I agree that above statement ought to make any just man wrathy with righteous indignation. But when the nicely-spoken man mentions make it a "Red Spain," of strong labor unions, free education and the rest of the "Soviet Utopia Dream," I object. The Christian missionaries bring back different tales from Russia.

Where there is no religious freedom, where Christianity is hated, mocked and blasphemed and cruelly suppressed, there can be no freedom of thought, enduring peace and soundly-established security nor prosperity.

History cannot be refuted nor laughed away. History is past truth. Let he who wants honesty and truth fully look deeply into history, and learn from past civilization "that nations who forget God will be destroyed completely." JOHN SUNISLOW,

Historical Association Membership Grows, Annual Meeting Told

Descendants of the Douglasses, the Pembertons, the Munros, the Helmckens and other prominent pioneer families gathered at the annual dinner of the Victoria section, British Columbia Historical Association, at the Empress Hotel last night, talked old times, when their grandparents lived here and transacted the business of their annual meeting.

The meeting followed a pleasant dinner party, a long table being set in the Princess Charlotte and Princess Louise rooms. Mrs. Fitzherbert Bullen was responsible for the most effective and artistic decorations. She used autumn-tinted leaves in a streamer down the entire length of the table and on the leaves she dropped rose dahlias.

Dr. T. A. Rickard, president for the last two years, presided, and announced the new council, from whose members the new officers will shortly be chosen. On the council for the coming year are Dr. Kaye Lamb, Mrs. Arthur Cree, Miss Madge Wolfenden, Major Harold Nation, John Goldie, E. W. McMullen, J. B. Munro, Dr. J. S. Plaskett, Dr. E. H. W. Elkington, L. deS. Duke, T. W. S. Parsons and Dr. Rickard as ex-officio member.

CHILD OF ARCHIVES

The retiring president spoke briefly, thanking the members for their co-operation during his term of office. He paid tribute to the untiring work of Mrs. Cree and Miss Wolfenden. The association, he said, was the child of the archives and its success was due in no small part to the hearty co-operation of the archives staff.

"I ask for your continued interest in the history of your province," he said. "If you continue this interest you will love your province more and be better able to serve it."

Mrs. Cree, in her report, covered the year's activities, one of the highlights being the Blanshard Day party at Government House, at which His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. Hamber were hosts. Speakers during the year included Dr. Lamb, R. H. B. Ker, W. M. Halliday, B. A. McKelvie, John Goldie, Dr. David Hunter Miller, Dr. W. N. Sage, T. W. S. Parsons, Mrs. W. Curtis Sampson, F. C. Green and J. B. Munro. Another feature of the year was the annual field day in the Pioneers' Cabin at Saanichton.

Miss Madge Wolfenden, treasurer, showed in her report the local section now had 163 members, including five life members. She said the society ended this year with considerably more in the bank than at the end of last season.

Dr. Lamb, editor of the association's quarterly, gave the report on publication. He said the quarterly now had a mailing list of 500 and was being sent to such famous places as the Library of Congress at Washington, D.C., and the British Museum in London.

INTERESTING NECROLOGY

Major Harold Nation report on mining activities, briefly sketching the historical background of several B.C. mines; C. C. Pemberton reported on historical landmarks; G. Hamilton Harman gave the auditor's report, and Mrs. George Phillips gave a most interesting necrology of old-timers who had passed away during the last year, mentioning Mrs. Andrews, Mrs. Mackenzie, Charles Lombard and Alfred Williams.

A particularly happy moment came when Mrs. Rickard was presented with a candle-lit birthday cake and a bouquet of carnations by Mrs. Fitzherbert Bullen. Later she and her husband were wished bon voyage on the eve of their departure for the West Indies where they will pass the winter months.

Anglican Mission Work Is Described

Work of the Anglican Caravan Mission in the Canadian north and British Columbia's interior was told by Miss Rainsford Hannay and Miss V. Archibald at a meeting in the Memorial Hall Tuesday. Dean H. S. Elliott presided.

They spoke of the activities among Polish and Ukrainian settlers in the Athabasca area where the caravan made regular visits. Last year 33 English girls came to Canada as Sunday school post office and caravan workers.

GET COMFORTING RELIEF FROM Runny HEAD COLD

DO THIS: Put some Vicks VapoRub on each nostril and sniff well back. You'll feel better right away. Next, melt a spoonful of VapoRub in a bowl of boiling water; then breathe in the steam for several minutes. This loosens phlegm and further clears the air-passages. At bedtime, rub VapoRub on throat, chest, and back so that its long-continued double action can relieve the misery of the cold while you sleep. VapoRub acts direct through the skin like a poultice; at the same time its medicated vapors, breathed in direct, bring comfort to the irritated air-passages. Try it. VICKS VAPORUB

Pretty Wedding at St. Barnabas Church

St. Barnabas Church, beautifully decorated by girl friends of the bride, was the setting of a pretty wedding last night at 8, when Rev. N. E. Smith united in marriage Margaret Mary (Rita), elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Mottershead, 1446 Gladstone Avenue, and Richard Berry, only son of Mr. and Mrs. James Berry, 3071 Washington Avenue.

Dr. J. E. Watson, church organist, played the "Lohengrin" Bridal Chorus as the bride approached the altar with her father, who gave her in marriage. She wore a white satin gown with a short train, a Peter Pan collar with pleated edging, and self-covered buttons down the front, the long sleeves buttoned from elbow to wrist. Her veil of embroidered silk net was caught with a spray of orange blossoms and she carried a shower bouquet of butterfly and sweetheart roses.

The bridesmaids were Miss Kaye Mottershead, sister of the bride, in a pale pink silk net and lace over satin, with very full skirt, and bolero jacket of net with short puff sleeves and Peter Pan collar; and Miss Violet Berry, sister of the groom, in robin's egg blue silk net and lace over taffeta, with full skirt and bolero jacket of net with short puff sleeves and heart-shaped neck-line. Both wore Juliet caps of silk net to match their frocks and long lace mittens also matching. They carried Colonial bouquets of roses, forget-me-nots, and carnations.

Mr. Max Winkler was groomsmen, and the ushers were Mr. Charles Powell and Mr. Norman Goyette. During the signing of the register the organist played "O Promise Me."

After the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. The reception rooms were effectively decorated with chrysanthemums in varying shades. The bride's mother welcomed the guests in a frock of woven blue silk with long puff sleeves and cowl neckline, with raised gold embroidery on front of bodice and on sleeves and a black velvet turban with veil. Mrs. Berry, the groom's mother, wore a frock of black lace with long full sleeves with a black velvet turban with veil. Both wore corsages of carnations.

The bride couple stood before a window embrasure beneath an arch decorated with flowers, from which hung a white wedding bell and a large bow of white tulle. The many lovely gifts were exhibited in the sun-room in a setting of greenery and flowers.

Refreshments were served in the dining-room, where pink and white streamers fell from the corners of the table, which was centred with the three-tier wedding cake and pink tapers in silver holders. Mr. W. D. Todd proposed the toast to the bride.

Mr. and Mrs. Berry left on the midnight boat for Vancouver, and will motor to Seattle and Portland. On their return they will reside at Oak Bay Avenue. The bride left in a black sealskin coat with bell sleeves over a woollen frock of deep blue with embroidery on bodice and diamond waistline, worn with a black hat and accessories.

New Sterilizer To Be W.A. Gift

A rapid sterilization machine will be provided for the Royal Jubilee Hospital by the Senior Woman's Auxiliary, making an other valuable addition to the up-to-date equipment. This decision was made by the W.A. at its meeting yesterday afternoon after hearing Dr. T. W. Walker give a brief account of his recent visit to hospitals in Eastern Canada and the United States, describing the up-to-date equipment which he had seen.

Mrs. R. J. Jameson was in the chair, and Mrs. P. E. Taylor, convener of the membership committee, reported $22 in dues received. Mrs. J. W. Benning, general convener of the hospital ball, reported that final arrangements had been completed, and asked that all bridge scores be in by 11.30 p.m. The next meeting planned for November 30 has been changed to November 23 in order not to conflict with the doll bazaar to be held by the Junior W.A. Two vacancies on the executive were filled by Mrs. C. T. Beard and Miss Caroline Hall.

Hallowe'en Party At 'Y' Tonight

The annual Hallowe'en party of the "Y" senior girls' department will be held tonight at 8 at the "Y" clubrooms and will take the form of a masquerade. An interesting and entertaining program has been arranged, including the grand march, group games, folk dancing, ghost walk, etc. The members of the Y-Owenia Club will sell home-made candy and the senior girls' council will serve the refreshments at a small charge. The proceeds are to go towards the Spokane conference fund. All girls of the senior department are invited to come and join in this affair.

The Junior Hi-Y group which meets at the "Y" on Friday evenings will have their Hallowe'en party on Friday at 7.30 when their friends and members of the Y.T.A. group will also be invited to join in the fun. Everyone is to come representing a song or a book.

At the third meeting of the Esquimalt Hi-Y the following were appointed officers for the coming year: Audrey Prior, Muriel Ryley, Marie Sweeney, Hazel Bixton and Doris Tams. Meetings will be held on Tuesdays after school and all girls of this high school are welcome to join at any time.

The Junior Business Club is well under way and plans are outlined in full for the meetings up until Christmas. At the last meeting two reports were given on the recent Spokane conference by Misses Kitty Cameron and Winnie Graham. Miss Dorothy Beech, the girls' work secretary, gave a travel talk on eastern cities. The next meeting will take the form of a Hallowe'en social.

The supper dance at the Empress Hotel on Saturday night will be augmented by black cats, yellow pumpkins and all manner of traditional decorations in honor of Hallowe'en. With parties even now booking for the occasion and demands for the Lambeth Walk on the roster of entertainment it looks as if the occasion will be a particularly gay one. Mr. W. F. Tickle is making up a dance program in all ways in tune with the occasion.

In honor of Mrs. David Lytle, who recently arrived from Toronto to make her home here, Mrs. Walter Harris, Medina Street, entertained at the tea hour yesterday afternoon. The guests included Mesdames S. Harris (Vancouver), J. S. Atkins, J. Gordon Smith, W. H. Wilders, E. Hornsby, D. Lytle, J. W. Atkins and Miss Muriel Palfrey. Mrs. B. M. E. Yool threw open her home on Belmont Avenue yesterday afternoon for the successful bridge and silver tea arranged by the Catholic Women's League and the Altar Society of Our Lady of Lourdes Church. Twelve tables were in play, with Rev. Father J. R. Buckley and additional guests coming in at the tea hour. The dining-room was prettily arranged with shades, and Mrs. John Hart and Mrs. H. A. Goward presided at the tea-table, which was centred with pink chrysanthemums in a black bowl. The contest was won by Madame G. N. Cagnet, and the winners at bridge were: First, Mrs. Russell Cooper, and second, Mrs. E. L. St. Martin.

Practicing Reels for St. Andrew's Ball

With the annual St. Andrew's ball an outstanding social occasion of the season and the date set for Wednesday, November 30, Victoria dance enthusiasts are already practicing reels. Again Mrs. Colin H. Rutherford has kindly consented to convene the ball and to assist all those wishing to dance the traditional Scotch dances. She suggests that if those who have an eight made up will phone, per at E 3367, arrangements can be made to practice.

There have been two dance meetings at her house this week, and practices will continue until the ball, which certainly grows in popularity yearly.

False Teeth Wearers Are Worst Breath Offenders!

"Need More Than a Mouth Wash" say Authorities... Recommend Polident

Plates and bridges soak up odors and impurities like a sponge! A thin dark scum collects on them. This scum holds germs and decay bacteria. It is so tough that ordinary brushing seldom removes it. And it gets into every tiny crevice where brushing can't even reach. Almost always it results in "denture breath"—probably the most offensive of all breath odors.

Yet there's a perfect way to clean and purify false teeth without brushing, acid or danger. It is Polident, the powder that dissolves away all scum, stains, tartar and odor. Makes breath sweeter and plates or bridges look better and feel better. Tens of thousands call Polident a blessing for comfort, convenience and hygiene. Long-lasting can cost only 40¢ at any drug store. Approved by Good Housekeeping Bureau and dentists everywhere.

Cleans, Purifies Like Magic
Put plate or bridge in 1/2 glass of water. Add a little Polident powder. Leave in 10 to 15 minutes—then—and it's sweet and purified—ready to use!

Woman Given Big Railroad Job

Mother of Grown-up Son Secretary Of Burlington Line

By RUTH COWAN

Associated Press Staff Writer CHICAGO (AP)—A woman became secretary and assistant treasurer of a major United States railroad yesterday, the first in the country's rail history to be chosen for a high executive position.

She is Mrs. Edith Jarvis Alden, a slim, grey-haired veteran of the Burlington railroad.

Mrs. Alden, who got her education on the job, stayed modestly in Chicago while the board of directors, meeting at New York, set a precedent in the road's 82-year history by promoting a woman to a position where she would have her name on the door.

Secretary Alden came to the Burlington's Chicago office in 1918 to help her father handle the road's participation in Liberty loan drives.

Her story is that of fitting herself for additional responsibilities as she went along. Mrs. Alden lacked a college education, having married soon after leaving high school, so when she entered the service she went to night school to learn office management. She learned corporation law and other legal aspects of the railroad business "on the job."

Mrs. Alden has one son, John, 26, with whom she lives.

Her recipe for success in business by the feminine sex: "Use your head."

Photographed at Miss Sara Spencer's recent rally tea for all the workers of the Women's Division of the Community Chest Campaign which goes into action Monday for one week are: Miss Phyllis Pooley (left) and Mrs. R. H. Tye (right), both team captains under "Major" Mrs. C. F. Armstrong, their territory covering the James Bay and Fairfield districts; and in the centre, Mrs. W. Stanbury and Mrs. D. Gordon of Miss Pooley's team. Miss Spencer, general chairman of the "C" (Women's) Division, and Mrs. W. P. D. Pemberton, vice-chairman, have organized 240 volunteer women to canvass the residential sections of Victoria in order to raise $16,000, one-sixth of the total campaign quota.

SCATHING ON HIGH HAIR

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Marjorie Hillis, who wrote "Live Alone and Like It," has a low opinion of high hair styles.

"Life is too short for high hair," she said here. "Besides, it makes you look not a day over 90."

Former Opera Star Died Today

Alma Gluck, Wife Of Zimbalist, Dies in New York

NEW YORK (AP)—Alma Gluck Zimbalist, famous opera singer of past years, and wife of Efrem Zimbalist, the violinist, died today. She was 54.

Mrs. Zimbalist, whose maiden name was Reba Fiersohn, was born in Bucharest, Roumania, in 1884. She was brought to America in 1890, and educated in the public schools and Normal College, New York, and at Union College, Schenectady, N.Y. She studied music under Signor Buzzi-Peccia, New York, and in 1909 made her operatic debut in "Whether," in New York in 1909. During the season she sang 11 different roles, only two of which she had previously studied. She was noteworthy as a singer who gained worldwide recognition on the operatic and concert stage, without European training.

On June 15, 1914, she married Efrem Zimbalist, who survives her, together with a daughter, Mrs. Ogden Goelt, and one son, Efrem.

Clubwomen's News

An interested audience in St. Mark's Hall last evening enjoyed the entertaining address given by Dean Spencer Elliott on "Reminiscences of Boyhood Days in Scotland." Numbers by Enid Middleton and P. E. Mickleburgh enhanced the enjoyment of the evening.

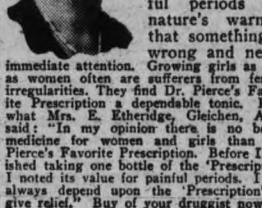

The W.A. to Britannia Branch No. 9, Canadian Legion, B.E.S.L., held their usual card social Tuesday evening at 8 in the clubrooms. Progressive five hundred was played, the prize-winners being: Mrs. Davidson, Mrs. C. Miller, Mrs. George, Mrs. B. Wait and Mrs. A. E. Hall, after which refreshments were served by Mrs. L. Quaintance and staff.

The Women's Auxiliary to the Missionary Society of the Gorge and Eskine Road Presbyterian Church met Tuesday with Mrs. W. Sanders in the chair. Mrs. Sanders read an inspiring paper on "Praise," this being the theme of the meeting; all joined in reading the scripture portions from the Psalms. Reports were heard. Mrs. Dempsey, the supply secretary read the allocation for next year, this to be discussed more fully at the next meeting. A letter from Mrs. Stewart, "Glad Tidings" Secretary, was read, her resignation being much regretted. The Gorge Mission Band was the object of discussion, some of its members being now ready to graduate to an older girls' group. Mrs. Sanders led in prayer. The meeting closed with prayer by Mrs. H. M. Peasland.

WOMEN WHO SUFFER

WOMEN who suffer in silence often pay a double penalty for wearing this gag of unselfishness or silly pride. Painful periods are nature's warning that something is wrong and needs immediate attention. Growing girls as well as women often are sufferers from female irregularities. They find Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription a dependable tonic. Read what Mrs. E. Eberidge, Glendon, Alta., said: "In my opinion there is no better medicine for women and girls than Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. Before I finished taking one bottle of the 'Prescription' I noted its value for painful periods. I can always depend upon the 'Prescription' to give relief. Buy of your druggist now."

W.B.A. Banquet Is Big Success

The annual banquet of W.B.A. Review No. 1 was held Monday evening in Spencer's dining-room, with a good attendance of members and friends. The president, Mrs. Bowden, in a few well-chosen words, welcomed the guests and also proposed the toast to the King, responded to in customary style.

Mrs. Julia Ricketts proposed the toast to the "Order" and the members sang the W.B.A. song in response. The toast to the Girls' Club was proposed by Mrs. H. Thompson, and Mrs. H. Barraclough, the president of the club, responded. Mrs. G. Brown proposed the toast to the Pioneer members, with Mrs. Winter, president of the Pioneer Club, responding. The toast to the junior members was proposed by Mrs. T. W. Laing, Mrs. Gaetz, junior supervisor, responding.

A meeting was held immediately following the banquet in the K. of C. Hall with the president in the chair. Financial reports for September were read. The sick committee reported a number of members sick. Final arrangements were made for the bazaar to be held in the hall, November 21, with Mrs. Barraclough as convener, assisted by the following committee: Fancywork, Mrs. T. Thompson and Mrs. Davis; house-house, Mrs. Davis and Mrs. Taylor; home cooking, Mrs. Laud and Mrs. Hening; touch and take, Mrs. Alice Ritchie; candy, Junior Girls' Club; teas, Mrs. Wilkinson and Mrs. Morris; aprons, Qu-Alex Girls' Club. Supper will be in charge of the Pioneer Club, with Mrs. Burnett as convener.

The Junior Club will meet in the K. of C. Hall in future on the third Saturday of each month; a Halloween party is also being planned for them at the home of the supervisor, Mrs. Gaetz, on Thursday evening. The Girls' Club reported on their recent meeting held at the home of Mrs. Malcolm, and a card party to be held in the near future. The Pioneer Club will not meet this

THE TRANSFORMATION OF TOMMY

"My Boy Gained Weight—Eats Better—Has More Pep"
Writes Mrs. William Freeman, Toronto
"My boy, Billy, was always restless and tired—couldn't eat—and at 12 years weighed only 60 pounds; I started him on Ovaltine, and he looks at Now he's 13 and goes around 110 pounds. He is never tired—but always full of pep! I can't give him enough to eat! . . . Thanks to Ovaltine!"
This excerpt from Mrs. Freeman's letter covers, of course, only one individual. We do not claim similar results will occur in every case when Ovaltine is used.

But so many mothers have reported remarkable results, we do feel a thorough trial of Ovaltine is justified in similar cases of underweight.

HALT the Ravages of Premature Old Age

The Unnecessary Devitalization of Premature Old Age May Be Avoided Through the Simple Use of Phyllosan

All of us — especially those past forty — pay a high price for the high-tension lives we lead. The times we live in subject our bodies and our nervous systems to a constant, grueling strain. Usually the strain doesn't begin to tell until late. Then, at the very age at which we should be able to begin to enjoy life to the full, devitalization begins to take its toll. First, a gradual loss of interest in work and leisure and those close to us — then growing discouragement — fatigue — "nerves". Every petty duty assumes the proportions of an overwhelming, impossible task... nothing any longer seems right... then growing irritability — loss of true companionship — fear of the future.

But, fortunately, you don't have to "just sit by" and feel yourself slipping out of the mainstream of life and activity — you don't have to submit to the ravages of premature old age. The experience of thousands of men and women shows that we can avoid unnecessary devitalization — and help win back vigour and stamina — through the simple use of PHYLLOSAN tablets.

"The effect of Phyllosan tablets upon me is more gratifying than I can express — making a vast improvement in my appearance and giving me fresh life and energy. I feel and look years younger!"

"I have derived great benefit from the use of Phyllosan tablets. I feel much more vigorous and bright —"

GOEBBELS' PAPER WARNS LITHUANIA

Germans in Memel Want Autonomy, Says Propaganda Minister

BERLIN (AP)—The fate of Czechoslovakia awaits Lithuania. Propaganda Minister Paul Goebbels' newspaper Der Angriff declared today, unless Memel Germans are given full autonomy.

"There is one thing about which the people in Kaunas (capital of Lithuania) must be perfectly clear," Der Angriff said, referring to Eduard Benes, resigned President of Czechoslovakia.

"A policy patterned on that of Benes must needs be as damaging for Lithuania as it proved damaging for Czechoslovakia. Memelanders demand their autonomy. They demand it complete and unlimited. And they demand it with justice."

The Memel territory, an area of 1,099 square miles with a population of about 150,000, was taken from Germany by the Treaty of Versailles after the Great War and turned over to Lithuania in 1923. It was to constitute a territory with a large measure of local autonomy under Lithuanian sovereignty. It is a valuable Baltic port.

HITLER HONORS ENVOY
 BERLIN (CP-Havas)—The retiring French ambassador, Andre Francois-Poncet, was decorated yesterday with the German Order of the Eagle, marking the first time a Frenchman has received this honor since the award was created by Chancellor Hitler in 1936. M. Francois-Poncet recently was appointed ambassador to Italy.

WITH the opening of another National Hockey League season just around the corner we are reminded of one courageous little player who remains in the background—Roy Worters. The former pint-sized goalie of the New York Americans has sort of faded from sight since he retired from his job of stopping flying pucks.

In Toronto the other day Worters, a goalie who faced them all, came to the front in support of the comeback of Charlie Conacher this season with Detroit Red Wings. In his National League years with Pittsburgh and Amerks, Worters took all the ups and downs, the knocks and boosts and came out as level-headed as he went in, so he should know what he's talking about.

Worters says: "Definitely. He can come back and he will come back. From the day he entered the league Chuck Conacher was the most dangerous man around. I never handled a shot harder than his. I talked to him the other day and he said he was in shape. He said he was determined to show some people a few things. I believe him."

"First, there's the fact that he has to make good; he has put himself on the spot and he can't get away from it. Then they tell me he is going to play on a line with Marty Barry and Herbie Lewis, a couple of smart go-getters who have been around. That should be a line and Charlie should just about lead the league in scoring. He should be real poison on the penalty shot now the conditions are a little easier."

Playing their best ball from the men's back teeth, Henry Cotton, England's most famous professional, beat three of the best women golfers in the world over 18 holes on an English course the other day. His opponents were Lady Heathcoat Amory, formerly Miss Joyce Wethered, who held the English women's title for five successive years and won the British open crown three times; Miss Enid Wilson who held British open crown for three years and Mlle. Rene Lacoste, formerly Mlle. Thion de la Chaume, winner of the British open title in 1927.

Cotton was a remarkable round. He finished in 67, seven under par for the course. He had eight birdies and went over par on only one hole. The match should satisfy all the experts that women will never be able to beat men at golf. It was a most decisive victory and, after the sixth hole, by which time Cotton was four up, his victory was assured.

Although not an official record of any kind, Sam Snead's recent feat of breaking two course records, tying a third and missing another by a stroke, all in one week, stands out as some of the best golf of the season. His 62 at Greenbrier, Va., was just one stroke over his own mark. The following day he set a new course record of 62 at Old White Course, White Sulphur, Va. Next he equaled the best round ever played at Sands Point, N. Y., and then topped off his work with a new figure of 63 at Roanoke, Va. Altogether, Snead was 29 under par in his four rounds.

High School Rugby

Coming from behind in the last half of a thrilling rugby game on the Fernwood Road grounds yesterday afternoon House 4 of the Victoria High School came through with a 12 to 3 victory over House 2. The game was a fixture in the Victoria-Oak Bay High School League.

House 2 had the better part of the play in the first half and about 10 minutes after the half opened Norman Englehardt went over for their single try.

In the second half Sid Watson scored two and Ray Whitehouse scored two for House 4.

Figure to Regain Heights This Season in Major Hockey Campaign

DETROIT (CP)—Confidence that slipped when Detroit Red Wings skidded to the depths of the National Hockey League last winter may be restored by the advent of Charlie Conacher from Toronto.

Conacher and confidence may be all the Wings need this season, for the nucleus of the great team that won the league championship and the Stanley Cup in 1935-36 and 1936-37 is still young. Hockey clubs can fall apart fast, but they can be put together again, too.

Next week's schedule opening marks a fresh start for Manager Jack Adams, who in the deluge of 1937-38 shifted his line-up, called in reserves from the Pittsburgh farm, grabbed Alex Motter from Boston, administered all sorts of lectures and still could not get the united response he had learned to expect.

There has been a grim determination about the club's work-outs here. When Conacher was bought from Toronto in the middle of the training campaign, the drills gained impetus.

There's still a chance that Conacher's health, which forced him to retire in the middle of last season, will not hold up. But Adams says the big fellow never has been in better health and Charlie avers he is ready to go.

PROSPECTS BRIGHT

If Conacher is ready to go—and maintain the pace he set to lead the league in scoring twice—the prospects of a comeback for him and the club are bright. On a forward line with Marty Barry and Herbie Lewis, a couple of veteran playmakers, he should receive goals of those passes he can drive like no other man in the game. His power should be an advantage, too, under the broader penalty shot rule.

Jimmy Franks, who came up from Pittsburgh to replace the injured Normie Smith in goal in the Stanley Cup series of 1937, has been after Smith's job again. Harvey Teno, Windsor netminder who has been on several of Canada's best amateur units, has made a bold bid. And, though Smith still has the inside track, he will have to play up to his championship peak to keep his post.

The dreadnaught defence of the title campaigns is intact, but already the injury jinx that struck it repeatedly last season has returned. Doug Young injured a leg in the first practice of the fall and has not returned to the ice. Eddie Bush, a youngster from Guelph, Ont., played in his place beside Bucko McDonald in an exhibition last night and may open the schedule there. Scotty Bowman and Eddie Goodfellow form the other blue-line combination.

Don Deacon, pestered for three years by inability to remain at a fighting weight, came to camp in better shape than ever before. Instead of being demoted to Pittsburgh as usual, he will start at centre on the second line with Syd Howe, one of the few who didn't disappoint last time, and Modere Bruneteau, who hopes he had cast off the plagues of injury and illness at last.

PLAY TOGETHER

Most dependable line last season though all were freshmen, Eddie Ware, Alex Motter and Carl Liscombe are together again on the third string. Adams has only to hope they fulfill the promise they showed in keeping the Wings from dropping right out of the bottom of the league.

Hec Kilrea, veteran forward who can play on either wing, seems destined for a utility role and Pete Bessone, who came from the Michigan-Ontario League to play defence last season, is expected to stick. Johnny Sherf, Michigan University product, is still trying to get a permanent boost from Pittsburgh and Gus Giesbrecht, another minor league graduate, has impressed in training.

GROUNDS NOT AVAILABLE

Owing to the fact that wood for bonfires on Halloween night is now being dumped on the playing fields at Victoria West and Spencers Park these grounds will not be available for soccer matches over the week-end.

DOMINOES MAKE IT FIVE STRAIGHT—Meeting their stiffest opposition of the season last night at the High School gym the Dominoes turned back the Senators 28 to 19 to retain their undefeated basketball record this season and move into undisputed possession of first place in the league. The above picture was shot during some fast action around the Senators' basket. The fellow closest to the hoop is Hank Rowe who has just fired a winning shot. The chap with the No. 4 is Sonny Walkers of the Senators while the No. 5 is Henry Mottishaw of the Dominoes. The four players to the left are Burgess Berry of the Senators, Art Chapman, centre of the Dominoes, Bill Noel of the Senators and Alex. McKeachie of the Senators, he's the player who looks like he is taking his morning exercises. The referee at the extreme right is Bob Macmurchie.

Coast Clubs Set

Hockey Season Will Be Ushered in at Spokane Sunday; Several New Faces on Rosters of Four Squads

VANCOUVER (CP)—Whole-sale interleague trades, a few new additions and revised rules which should answer the cry of the fans for more exciting and better balanced Pacific Coast Hockey League this season.

A schedule covering four and a half months play will get under way Sunday with Seattle Sea Hawks travelling to Spokane for the opening game. Regular contests will be played in Spokane Sundays, Vancouver, Mondays, Seattle, Wednesdays and Portland Thursdays.

Rule changes include bigger goals—six inches wider and four inches higher.

Brand new faces in the league will include Ken Doraty at Seattle; Desse Roche, and possibly Alfie Moore at Spokane, and a number of rookies at Vancouver. Doraty played with Pittsburgh last year and when he became a free agent Seattle grabbed him. He was the hero of the longest game ever played, scoring the only goal for Toronto Maple Leafs after 104 minutes of play against Boston in the finals of the 1933 Stanley Cup series.

Lorne Mercer will be back at Vancouver after a year at Providence where he played left wing. The Lions also plan to build a second line out of a group of rookies, including Doug Norris of Trail, B.C., Paul Lord of Winnipeg, Gordon Boyd of Vancouver, Freddy Bond of Yorkton, Sask., and Fred Ritchie, Meyer Flett and Jimmy Anderson of Edmonton.

Seattle also obtained Ralph Blythe, a centre, from Portland, and has ironed in the fire for two more players.

Spokane signed Roche from Windsor of the Michigan-Ontario League and is endeavoring to land Alfie Moore of Pittsburgh to replace Sad Sam Timmins in the goal. Timmins probably will be used until a new net-tender comes along.

The Clippers also obtained Pete Leswick and Sammy McAlam of Seattle and Art Merrill and Owen (Lulu) Lennon of Vancouver.

Portland mended its fences by obtaining Red Conn from Vancouver via Seattle, and Hal Picketts, Walt McCartney and Aubrey Webster from Spokane.

PAHL SCORES KNOCKOUT WIN

Alberta Heavyweight Puts Away De Witt In Fifth Round

VANCOUVER — Paddy Pahl, 184, Richdale, Alta., fighting for the first time here in two years, last night knocked out Harry De Witt, 186, Los Angeles, in the fifth round of a scheduled 10-round main event.

Pahl came out with a rush at the opening of the fifth and poured punches at De Witt from every direction. He connected with a jolting left to the jaw which knocked De Witt off balance, then dropped him with a hard right cross to the chin to end the contest.

Julius Troll, 142, Vancouver, took a technical knockout from Mickey McGuire, 140, Edmonton, in the fourth round of the scheduled six-round semifinal.

Dud Miller, 118, Nanaimo, B.C., won a decision from Jackie Pasco, 124, Vancouver.

Miller's victory over Pasco came near being of the knockout variety. He had the Vancouver boxer groggy in the second round and the end of both the second and the third rounds Pasco was nearly out on his feet.

Medwick or Mize Are Not for Sale

ST. LOUIS—Any major baseball league clubs casting covetous eyes on Joe Medwick or Johnny Mize of St. Louis Cardinals can look elsewhere for their pennant-making material.

Medwick and Mize are not for sale and, what's more, Sam Braden, president of the Redbirds, said definitely yesterday he will not sell a single player who has a chance of helping the "gasless-gashouse gang" regain its old glory in 1939.

That means the Cardinals, who have supplied virtually every National League team with star material from its farm system, now will bring the boys home to do or die for dear old St. Louis.

Grant Turns Pro

WINNIPEG (CP)—Douglas Grant, three times winner of the Dominion badminton championship, announced here today he has challenged Jack Purcell of Toronto for the world professional championship.

Grant first won the Canadian amateur title when he represented Kingston, Ont., in 1933. In 1934, wearing the colors of Halifax, Doug did it again and in 1936 he brought the title west when representing Winnipeg.

Soccer Teams Are Selected

England and Scotland Battle Nov. 2 for Inter-league Championship

WOLVERHAMPTON, Eng. (CP)—English and Scottish League teams battle here November 2 for the interleague soccer championship won last season by the Scots. The match marks the close of the tournament, Scotland's representatives having defeated the Irish League 6 to 1, while the English League whipped the green shirts 8 to 2.

The Englishmen are after their 24th victory since the series started in 1892. Teams follow: English League: Goal, Woodley (Chelsea); backs, Sprston (Tottenham Hotspurs), Hapgood (Arsenal); half-backs, Willingham (Huddersfield Town), Cullis (Wolverhampton Wanderers); Taylor (Bolton Wanderers); forwards, Matthews (Stoke City), Hall (Tottenham Hotspurs), Lawton (Everton), Dix (Derby County), Boyes (Everton).

Scottish League: Goal, Dawson (Rangers); backs, Hogg (Celtic), Carabine (Third Lanark); half-backs, Geatons, Lyon, Paterson (Celtic); forwards, Delaney (Clyde), Waler (Hearts), Martin (Clyde), Venters, Kinner (Rangers).

TWO MAJOR GRID GAMES SATURDAY

Notre Dame Battles Army and Fordham Meets Pitt on U.S. Schedule

NEW YORK—The autumn football madness reaches new heights Saturday when Pittsburgh plays Fordham and Notre Dame invades the eastern United States to play Army in two of the most important games of the season.

The rest of the schedule shows enough class and color to make it a banner day, but these two meetings steal the show. Some 75,000 expect to pack the Panther Stadium and about the same number will jam Yankee Stadium to match the Irish and the cadets.

The game at Pittsburgh is the more important from a national standpoint. Out there they say Jock Sutherland's regime has produced its finest eleven in the present team. It is unbeaten, united and unapproachable so far.

But Jim Crowley has brought his Fordham club along with this game in mind. His attack is functioning as no Fordham attack has run before. The Rams are unbeaten this season, have been tied only by Purdue.

Each gives what he can, but all are helping the Chest.

Navy and Bays Register Wins

Defeat City and Spencers in Midweek Soccer Tussles

Hudson's Bay and Navy footballers marched through to register victories yesterday afternoon as the four teams in the Wednesday loop continued their race for the Hayward Cup.

Manager Cy Nicholls' boys, sporting the colors of the Bays, took a poorly-functioning Spencer squad to the cleaners to the tune of 4 to 1 at the Athletic Park, while Navy found lots of fight in Joe Bloom's Victoria City club, but managed to come through with a 3 to 1 decision. This was at Heywood Avenue.

The only bright spot in the Spencer line-up was Wally Rowe. Playing his first game between the sticks for the Diamond S's, Rowe turned in one of the finest performances of his goaltending career. The co-operation he got from his teammates was exceedingly weak and coping with the ever-pressing, straight-shooting Bays was too big an assignment for one man to handle alone. Which was practically what he had to do. Four shots that would have beaten the best of goalies got by him, but he stopped all the rest of the deluge of attempts at his docket. Many times he had to dive full length to ward off the shots.

BAYS IN GOOD FORM

The Hudson's Bay boys were in their best football form. They waded through the defence and stormed Rowe's goal almost continuously in the first half, but due to Rowe's brilliant guarding were only able to bag two markers, these by Jack Okell, former West player, and Morry Speller. In this half there was very little life in the Spencer team. Their attacks were few and very ineffective. The Diamonds were up in the Bay area more often in the final session, but as there was no semblance of co-ordination in their attacks they were easily crushed. They did get a goal in this half, but that was given them by Tom O'Connell, Bay full-back. He rushed for Bradley's cross at the same time as the goalie, knocking it into his own goal.

Second-half goals for the winners were scored by the same players who notched the markers in the first half. Okell got his through a clever bit of strategy in the second half. He drew Rowe over to one side and promptly hammered it to the other side of the goal.

Shrimpton refereed. Teams follow: Hudson's Bay—Renfrew, O'Connell, Wyatt, Williamson, Kennedy, L. Speller, M. Speller, J. Okell, Preston, Fogden and Oakman.

Spencers—Rowe, D. Gent, Cann, Bradley, McMillan, Reside, Brown, Pierce, Purdy, K. Kent and Byatt.

CITY DEFENSIVE

Over on the Beacon Hill Park pitch, Navy and City fought through the first half to a 1-to-1 deadlock, but in the final session the sailors managed to penetrate the opposing defence twice to win the game by that margin.

The absence of "Barney" Barnswell and "Baldy" Roskam was a weakening factor for the City, but they put up a defence that was exceptionally hard to break through. Goalie Charlie Sadler and Glen Robbins, former City player in the week-end loop, were the two (Turn to Page 13, Col. 5)

Two Matches in Merchants League

Two matches are listed for teams in the Merchants' Football League Saturday. They follow:

Navy vs. Admirals, Victoria High grounds; referee, E. Bray. Mount Tolmie vs. Young Conservatives, Central Park; referee, P. J. Woodley.

WOMEN'S GOLF

Winners in the women's golf competition at the Victoria Golf Club, follow: A class, Mrs. J. Macdonald, all square; B class, Miss Ruth Jones, 1 down.

Hockey Gossip

Nine of Montreal Canadiens' candidates were turned over to their International American League farm at New Haven last night. They were goalie Paul Gauthier, defencemen Des Smith, Armand Raymond and Wilf Hoch, and forwards Don Willson, Bill Summerhill, Gus Mancuso, George Brown and Marcel Tremblay, an acquisition from Flin Flon, Man. The Eagles will get another Canadian cast-off, likely either Louis Trudel or Armand Mondou.

The fans looked to Charlie Conacher for signs of the start of his comeback when Detroit played its Pittsburgh farm team last night at London, Ont. But Conacher made only three appearances and shot two or three times from well outside the danger area. The rest of the Red Wings had enough power to defeat Pittsburgh 5 to 4 in overtime.

New York Rangers will be trying to plaster a fourth straight beating on their fellow-townsmen, the Americans, in the fourth game of their western exhibition tour tonight at Edmonton.

When people started to talk about the hockey ability of Phil Stein, goalie with Toronto Maple Leafs' Syracuse farm club, Turk Broda sat up and looked to his job as the Leafs regular net-minder.

Broda let 17 goals go by Tuesday when the whites defeated the blues in an intracub workout at Galt, Ont., but yesterday he scored a shutout when the blues stopped the whites 3 to 0. Still, though, the critics are talking about Stein's great showing in every practice session to date and the Turk's fight isn't over.

Sylvanus Apps, the Leafs' star centre, was guest of honor with his bride of a few months at a reception tendered last night by the friendship class of the Baptist Church in Apps' home town, Paris. And darned if Syl didn't show up with a front tooth missing and his lower lip cut by somebody's hockey stick.

Toronto's search for a right-wingman may lead to Gus Marker of the defunct Montreal Maroons. Tommy Gorman, who managed the Maroons, says the Leafs have first call on Gus, who still has a lot of hockey left in him and is skating every day at Montreal. Allan Shields and Dave Trotter of the big red team are still on the market, too, Gorman said.

Injuries, which hit Chicago Black Hawks only once in a while in their march to the Stanley Cup last season, may be catching up with them now. Four players suffered minor hurts in yesterday's workout in the University of Illinois rink at Champaign. Alex Levinsky needed one stitch over his right eye, Bill McKenzie two just below the knee and Art Wiebe two in one ear. Rookie goalie Paul Goodman retired with a hip bruise.

TABLE TENNIS

Melrose, Murphy Electricians and Sylvester U Drive recorded victories in second division table tennis games last night in the Crystal Garden headquarters. The closest game saw the Melrose squad eke out a 9 to 7 victory over Royal Arcanum, while the Murphys took Victoria Baggage, 14 to 2, and Blue Streaks lost to the U Drive team, 11 to 5.

Individual scores follow: Melrose — W. McGregor 3, D. Hawkes 3, B. Lashmar 0, and T. Hershaw 3.

Royal Arcanum — O'Connell 1, O'Connell 1, Noon 4, and Crombie 1.

Murphy Electricians — D. Robinson 4, R. Peebles 3, W. Robinson 4, and A. Jordan 3.

Victoria Baggage — Ross 2, Martin, Steward and Jones. Sylvester U-Drive — Corcoran 4, Erickson 3, Kay 2, and Ricketts 2.

SOCCER WORKOUT

Turn Back Senators 28 to 19

Register Fifth Straight Victory; Units Give Gainers Scare

Playing a strong defensive game and working in much closer for their shots Dominoes defeated the Senators, 28 to 19, in their senior men's basketball clash at the High School gym last night. It marked the fifth straight victory for Manager Dave Nicol's squad, and boosted them into undisputed possession of first place in the local league. Gainers, British Columbia senior A women's champions, playing their first game of the season, had the scare of their lives when they were held to a one-point victory, 21 to 20, by Walter Yeaman's Units, provincial intermediate A monarchs. In a senior C men's tussle Spencers turned back the Garrison, 35 to 20.

Although they had possession of the ball just as much as their opponents the Senators were unable to break through for soft shots. Practically all their baskets were potted on long shots and there were some pretty ones at that. The Dominoes broke faster on the attack and picked up their checks quicker when forced back on the defence.

In the first seven and a half minutes of play the Dominoes moved ahead 8 to 2 on points by Art Chapman, Rowe, Taylor and Jackson. At this point Berry dropped home the Senators' first field basket. Art Chapman got another two points to make it 10 to 4 at the end of the quarter.

SECOND QUARTER

Rowe opened the second quarter with a basket but Ian McKeachie matched it with a beauty from near centre. Baskets started to come fast at this stage and by half-time the Dominoes were out in front 20 to 12. During the first half Ian McKeachie and Rowe had a little trouble getting along and a pair of double fouls were called. In the third quarter the Dominoes got four points on baskets by Jackson while the Senators added three, Dale and Walker being responsible. Just before the whistle Ian McKeachie was off on personals.

The last quarter saw the Senators fight back hard and they reduced the margin to nine points. Rowe, Art Chapman and Jackson scored for the Dominoes, and Dale and Berry for the Senators. Rowe was again high scorer for the Dominoes with nine points. Berry topped the Senators with six.

Senators had 11 fouls called on them and the Dominoes seven. Senators scored three out of seven free shots and the Dominoes eight out of 14.

Levy and Macmurchie refereed.

Teams and scores follow: Dominoes — C. Chapman 2, A. Chapman 5, Rowe 9, Taylor 1, Jackson 6, Davies 3, Mottishaw 2, Webster, Mylrea and Hicks.

Senators — A. McKeachie, I. McKeachie 5, Price 2, Dale 3, Walker 2, Berry 6 and Noel 1. Spencers — Smart 2, Tyrrell, Smith 6, Bradley 19, Cann 2, M'innis, Rutledge 8, Walls 6, and McMillan.

Garrison — Bentlev 2, Wilkinson 5, Ripplingale 2, McCorkle 9, Wright Sedge 2, Sparks, Richardson and Pocock.

Gainers — Hannan 2, Purdy, A. Peden, Sparks 4, E. Peden 7, Edwards 2, O'Connor 4, and Beere. Tull's Units — Snyder 5, Reid, 6, Mason, Robertson, Meddler, D. Crowe 2, Goddard, Peden 7, and Metcalfe.

Armstrong Now Even Money Bet

NEW YORK—Henr. Armstrong still can drop 'em. The light and welterweight champion, working out in the Hippodrome for his defence of the heavier title against Celerino Garcia, is hitting with such authority the gamblers are revising their odds for Wednesday's 15-round bout. He explains it this way: "I built myself up for this—title fights. When I fought Ambers I had been boxing almost continuously for a year. I was tired and stale. Now I'm rested. I feel good and strong."

Garcia was the favorite when the betting opened but it is pretty even now.

SCOTTISH PRACTICE

$1,000,000 Race Meet

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Safest bet at Santa Anita race track: The 1938-39 meeting will be bigger and better than even when it opens its 52-day season, December 31.

Virtually every big stable will be represented, and almost every top-flight horse will be at Santa Anita. The purse money of around $1,000,000 (no purse less than $1,500) is the richest ever offered horsemen in the annals of the turf.

The $100,000 Santa Anita handicap is still the highest single pot of cash hung up in the country, and the $50,000 Derby and the $25,000 San Juan Capistrano handicap, which used to be a mere $10,000, are not to be sneezed at.

B.C. Movie Quota Law Proposed

Straith Suggests Scheme to Save Local Film Industry

A British Columbia movie quota law to save Victoria's moving picture industry and to encourage the establishment of other studios in the province was suggested by W. T. Straith, Liberal, Victoria, in moving the address in reply in the Legislature yesterday afternoon.

Mr. Straith described how the local movie industry had been built up under the British quota law, had distributed over $1,000,000 in the course of production, and now faced ruin because of the change in the British quota which excluded Empire pictures from protection.

He cited how various plans for saving the industry had been discussed, among them a quota law passed by the province. As in Australia, he said, it would be found that such a measure could best be handled provincially, not federally.

Such a law, he said, would not necessarily make Hollywood companies put studios here, because the market was so relatively small they could ignore it. But it would encourage local companies to produce films and sell them to the general distributors. Mr. Straith made it plain, that although he was opening the debate, he was not foreshadowing government policy on the movie quota proposal. However, he said the Department of Trade and Industry had shown the greatest co-operation in seeking a solution of the industry's difficulties.

"HART TRADITION"
The Victoria member paid a high tribute to his running mate, Hon. John Hart, Minister of Finance. He had established the "Hart tradition" in maintaining B.C.'s credit which was at such a point now that one insurance company, while reducing its bond holdings in the other three western provinces had increased its B.C. holdings fifteen-fold.

He predicted a great future for the new gold mining industry on the west coast of Vancouver Island, declaring that the Privater Mine, which poured its first gold bricks last week, would not be the only big producer. Prospectors had combed the country for 60 miles around Zeballos and had uncovered large bodies of low grade ore as well as the high grade shoots.

He urged the government to go ahead with its Alaska Highway policy, applauded the action of Premier Pattullo for getting Ottawa to name a Canadian commission for the project and expressed the hope the road would be built within the life of the present Legislature.

INFLUX OF PEOPLE
He blamed the steady influx of people to British Columbia from other parts of Canada for the continued unemployment situation despite the big increase in business. In 10 years, he said B.C.'s population had increased 100,000. These people were worthwhile citizens. They looked to B.C. as the promised land when conditions had gone bad in their homes, but their presence in B.C. created a serious problem on the labor market.

Touching on the International situation he applauded Prime Minister Chamberlain's bold action in dealing with Hitler and said it could only be hoped the sentiments for world peace expressed after the conference would be entirely realized. One thing that stood out from the recent crisis was that it marked a milestone in the settlement of affairs of an international character.

The impending visit of the King and Queen next year would give British Columbia a new opportunity to demonstrate its loyalty and devotion to the Royal family as it had often done in the past, he said.

FORESTRY CAMPS

Mr. Straith described his tour of the forestry camps on the island last winter and said the single unemployed had done magnificent work in creating beauty spots at many points.

He spoke of the value of the tourist industry to Vancouver Island. Roads and natural beauty were essentials to attract tourists he said, and the government had shown wisdom in its road policy that had increased the hard surfaced mileage in four years from 600 to 1,500.

Mr. Straith paid a compliment to the new Leader of the Opposition, R. L. Maitland, K.C., for his prominence at the bar and public service.

In welcoming D. W. Strachan, Liberal, Dewdney, back to the House, he said the by-election was a feather in the wind that reflected the people's agreement with the efficiency of the government.

Fauna Origin of Province Told

Dr. Ian M. Cowan Speaker at Meeting of Astronomical Society

There were more mammals and species of birds in British Columbia than in the rest of Canada, Dr. Ian M. Cowan, assistant director of the Provincial Museum said in an address at a meeting of the Royal Astronomical Society of Canada, Victoria centre, in the Y.W.C.A. last evening.

The subject of Dr. Cowan's lecture was, "The Origin of the Fauna of British Columbia."

Throughout history, the North American continent was, at different times, connected with Asia and South America, the speaker revealed. As a result, the animals of the continents had migrated from one to the other, explaining the fact that animals of a South American origin were found on North America, and the same with Asia, he said.

ICE KILLED LIFE

There was also four different ice ages in North America during which all life was snuffed out in certain regions. British Columbia was at times entirely covered, not including the Queen Charlotte Islands, with huge deposits of ice which either killed the animals living in the province then or drove them to regions free from the ice.

As the ice coat receded from the various parts of the continent the animals driven out, along with species foreign to the region, began to inhabit those parts. Some animals passed through British Columbia from the south and east and inhabited Alaska.

Although British Columbia had a large assortment of mammals, the province was in its youth as far as the study of the extent of animal life was concerned. Different species of mammals were being found in the province all the time. Practically every mammal of North America was a potential mammal of British Columbia, providing it could get to the province and could survive once it arrived.

Dr. Cowan traced the steps made by various mammals in their invasion of the province, and also said that certain species had evolved right where they were today.

ADDITIONAL TALKS

Prior to the main address brief talks were given by Miss Dorothy Humeston and Dr. Robert M. Petrie.

Miss Humeston spoke on "Current Phenomena," explaining that there would be an eclipse of the moon on November 7 that would be studied in Canada. This eclipse would not be seen in Victoria though, because it would be over by the time the moon rose here.

Dr. Petrie gave some information on the finding of two more satellites in the solar system last July. The satellites, discovered by astronomical photography, were those of the planet Jupiter.

The meeting was conducted by the president, Dr. Gordon Shaw.

One campaign a year—that's the Chest system.

Moves Uptown

The provincial department of Municipal Affairs staff will shift from its quarters at the Legislative Buildings on December 1 to the top floor of the new Dominion Bank Building, Hon. A. Wells Gray, the minister, announced. This, he said, will leave their offices at the buildings open for the lands department. A three-year lease on the bank building offices has been obtained by the government at $150 a month.

Joint Action on Transportation

Municipalities With City in Move for Enabling Legislation

Greater Victoria municipalities swung together yesterday for joint action in a move to secure enabling legislation aimed at unified action in calling tenders for a transportation service.

Outside districts were not, however, prepared to draft immediately by-laws similar to that of the city covering tender specifications.

Mayor Andrew McGavin, chairman of the meeting, asked the municipal delegates to prepare such drafts ready to put into operation when the required legislation was carried.

Esquimalt, represented by Reeve Alex Lockley and Councillor Albert Heald, advocated delay. The reeve read the municipality's resolution suggesting passage of a by-law on transportation be deferred until enabling legislation was secured.

IN AGREEMENT

"We are thoroughly in accord with the move to secure enabling legislation covering all municipalities," Reeve William Crouch said for Saanich.

Oak Bay was in agreement on the concerted action plan, Reeve R. R. Taylor said, adding clauses in the Municipal Act would need amendment in the way of enabling legislation before that council could participate in a general transportation franchise.

H. S. Pringle, city solicitor, suggested the four municipal solicitors co-operate in framing the required legislation.

Alderman Ed Williams included that suggestion in a resolution to which he added a clause to cover joint preparation of a franchise agreement.

Alderman Archie Wills called for an expression of opinion on sharing the costs for such work. Delegates from the municipalities were of the opinion there would be no costs until after enabling legislation was gained.

The resolution was divided, with the first part passing and the latter being left in abeyance.

TO SEE MINISTER

Reeves Taylor, Crouch and Lockley agreed to accompany Mayor McGavin and the city solicitor to the Parliament Buildings to interview the Minister of Municipalities and tell of their wishes.

Alderman W. L. Morgan stressed the necessity of calling bids in order to determine transportation costs.

Alderman R. A. C. Dewar considered the only logical proposition would be one which would cover a unified system and a by-law that would apply to all Greater Victoria.

Councillor E. C. Warren, Saanich, asked how bidding firms could submit tenders without knowing exactly what the municipalities required.

Reeve Lockley suggested the provincial utilities commission bill might contain points of exceptional interest on a transportation service. If the companies were hurried, the municipalities would not get the best terms, he thought.

Councillor Wm. Ellis, Oak Bay, urged the meeting to clear the first hurdle by securing enabling legislation before worrying about the second.

Alderman J. A. Worthington suggested the municipalities go to their own councils, study the question and decide what they wanted.

WOULD DRAFT ROUTES

Councillor A. G. Lambrick, Saanich, favored a course by each municipality leading to drafting of systems to connect with that proposed by the city.

Councillor P. A. Gibbs, Oak Bay, agreed in part with Reeve Lockley regarding careful consideration of all points, but stated the group anticipated passage of enabling legislation by the province. The by-law, he thought, was a joint concern and franchise arrangements should allocate proportionate powers and rights to each of the affected municipalities.

Informed by the mayor that points in the city by-law would be changed to cover all municipalities if they joined in it, Councillor Gibbs suggested the inter-municipal committee work as a liaison group on the matter. Councillor Heald advocated retention of the B.C. Electric street car system with improvements on its present equipment. It would be a long time before Greater Victoria could secure a better system, he believed. The councillor was prepared to see the institution of an eight-cent fare to cover improvements to the lines. Esquimalt, he said, was satisfied with the service.

HISTORY OUTLINED

Mayor Andrew McGavin outlined the history of the franchise negotiations, to which Alderman Wills added points, in an effort to show the outside municipalities where the city was, by calling for tenders, endeavoring to find out just what bus fares would be.

Reeve Crouch suggested the entire transport question be delayed a couple of months pending receipt of legislation and announcement of clauses in the utility bill.

The city did not desire to "dish out anything to the municipalities that was not fair," Alderman Ed Williams said. "Why wait?" he asked, before requesting the municipalities to draft by-laws similar to that of the city.

Councillor Warren's claim that the city was "trying to stampee us into something on which you (the city) have spent nearly two years" was refuted by city spokesmen.

Alderman Wills asked the meeting if it was prepared, following the long discussion, to combine the four councils into one body to seek the best system for the metropolitan area but no action was taken.

FUR CASE BAIL IS SET AT $3,000

Harry Dewese Will Appear Monday for Preliminary Hearing

Bail of $3,000 was set for Harry Dewese, charged in the City Police Court this morning with possession of furs valued at over $1,000 stolen from the store of Leonard Wilkes, furrier, last Saturday night.

Through Joseph McKenna, his counsel, Dewese elected for trial in a higher court and the preliminary hearing was set for Monday morning.

Bail was originally set yesterday at $5,000 and Mr. McKenna moved for reduction this morning on grounds original figure was prohibitive. He suggested it should be set at $2,000.

The court compromised at $3,000 although C. L. Harrison, prosecutor, claimed the original amount should stand.

Mr. McKenna also brought to the attention of the court that the accused had been held incommunicado since yesterday with the exception of being permitted to see counsel. He said there was a respectable local business man who desired to see the accused and felt he should be permitted to do so.

Magistrate Hall said he had no jurisdiction over such matters.

Council Session

Minor routine matters were included on the agenda for this afternoon's City Council meeting at which further action is expected to be taken on the transportation franchise.

In addition to the major debate, the council also will be asked to pass on an application from A. W. Knapp to use a temporary greenhouse on Fort Street, between Douglas and Blanshard Streets; will receive an invitation to attend the Remembrance Day service in Christ Church Cathedral at 3 on the afternoon of November 13; will hear a letter from A. T. Goward expressing thanks from the B.C. Electric for the temporary extension of the Goldstream plant agreement, and stating the proposal for a meeting with W. G. Murrin here in the near future has been forwarded to the B.C. Electric Railway Company head.

A petition is also on file from 12 residents of Sixth Street asking for a wooden or gravel sidewalk from that road to Shelbourne Street.

Toronto Greetings To Community Chest

Best wishes for success of the Victoria Community Chest campaign from the Federation of Community Service of Toronto were contained in a telegram received today by F. E. Winslow, president of the local board which is now making its annual appeal.

The telegram is as follows: "The workers in the Toronto Community Service campaign, meeting today (October 26) at lunch send greetings and good wishes. Your splendid results last year are not only an incentive to yourselves, but an encouragement to us. Best wishes for your success."

New Isolation Unit Proposed

Greater Victoria Health Authorities to Make Survey of Issue Tuesday

Plans for the reconstruction of the existing Isolation Unit at the Jubilee Hospital or for the construction of a new building were fully discussed by medical authorities and health officials of Greater Victoria and the provincial government at a meeting in the City Hall last night.

Decision on the proposal was left until a special session on the hospital grounds next Tuesday afternoon at 2.

The present building, medical men informed city and municipal delegates, was obsolete and would require heavy expenditure to improve. Costs of such work were rounded up at $9,000.

A new frame structure, probably finished in stucco, at a location closer to the main body of the hospital, would be preferable, the delegates were informed. Such a building would be served more easily by the hospital from the plant, of which heating could be secured more efficiently, it was explained.

COSTS INDEFINITE

Financing of the project was left in abeyance, pending decision on the type of structure to be built, if a new one were to replace the present unit.

Municipal delegates voiced deep interest in the scheme but were noncommittal on costs, Alderman John A. Worthington, city health committee chairman, stated.

Attending the session over which Alderman Worthington presided, were Aldermen W. H. Davies, B. J. Gadsden, R. A. C. Dewar, the mayor and Dr. Richard Felton, representing the city; Councillors Wm. Ellis and V. Roberts as well as R. F. Blandy, municipal clerk, and Dr. W. P. Walker, medical health officer, Oak Bay; Councillor George Austin, Dr. David Berman and R. R. F. Sewell, Saanich; Councillor Thomas Hadfield, Esquimalt, and Dr. H. E. Young, provincial health officer.

Dr. Stuart Kenning and Dr. P. A. C. Cousland represented the medical association.

Notes of the Legislature

Maintaining their custom the C.C.F. Opposition hit the order paper first today with a list of questions posed for the government.

Several of them under the names of E. E. Winch, Burnaby, and L. A. Shepherd, Delta, dealing with the Pattullo bridge, asking for up-to-the-minute details of the revenues from tolls and an itemized statement of the bridge's cost. They also ask for details of the deal under which the old Fraser River bridge was turned over to the Dominion Government.

Harold Winch, the C.C.F. member for Vancouver East, who told the Premier at the opening ceremony that even if the Conservatives were the official opposition his party would be the real opposition, is listed to speak tomorrow in the main debate.

Louis LeBourdais's story about the "blos" in alfalfa was the only real bit of humor that the House got yesterday.

It will be next week before the government sends any of the cabinet ministers into the opening skirmish of debate.

There are new faces in the Press Gallery this year with Torchy Anderson and John Shaw representing the Vancouver Province for the first time. Bruce Hutchison, dean of the gallery, now writes for the Vancouver Sun.

It is Premier Pattullo's 23rd session, but as he whimsically told the reporters "not 23 skiddoo."

Gas Retailers Fear Bankruptcy

Vancouver Dealers Ask Meeting With Carrothers To Discuss Cut

VANCOUVER (CP)—Retail gasoline dealers told the provincial government today that a cut in the price of gasoline under present conditions meant bankruptcy for them and appealed to Dr. W. A. Carrothers for a conference "as soon as possible."

"While retail gasoline dealers are desirous of obeying the regulations, they find it impossible to do so and remain in business," a statement said after an emergency meeting today.

"The gasoline dealers have received regulations of the Coal and Petroleum Control Board numbers 2 to 7, setting out the retail price, at which gasoline shall be sold," it continued, "but wholesale purchases this morning revealed that wholesale prices are unchanged and are not in conformity with the retail price set by the board."

"Under the circumstances we urge that a conference between Dr. Carrothers, Attorney-General Gordon S. Wismer and a delegation of the dealers be held as soon as possible."

A telegram asking for the meeting was sent immediately to Dr. Carrothers.

Best Guns Here, Speaker Says

Lieut.-Col. P. L. Fort Tells Rotary Club About Artillery of Defence Here

In speaking on the artillery side of coast defence in this vicinity, Lieut.-Col. P. L. Fort, said, at the Victoria Rotary Club luncheon meeting in the Empress Hotel today, the guns that are being used in the defence work here, are as up-to-date as any in the British Empire.

Lieut.-Col. Fort is in charge of the coast defence work on lower Vancouver Island.

Some of the guns being sent here from England were 20 or 30 years old, he said, but they had been improved upon so much so that they were now very effective.

The defence guns that were here, ranged from the biggest land gun of the British Empire, to small guns that fired shells weighing only a few pounds. The largest gun here at present could easily and accurately fire a shell to the American shore. The barrel of the gun weighed 28 and a half tons and was 45 feet long. Lieut.-Col. Fort explained the way in which large defence guns were fired. Before firing meteorological reports as well as data about the shell and gun, were taken into consideration. Blackboard sketches showed how the sighting of a target was determined.

In the case of hidden targets, the air service co-operated in sending positions and results of firing, to the battery by wireless.

In speaking on anti-aircraft defence, Lieut.-Col. Fort said that at the start of the Great War, the average hit made was one in 8,000 rounds. At the end of the war the average hit by anti-aircraft guns was one in 2,000 rounds. The British anti-aircraft guns of today—the ones coming here—were capable of making on hit in 28 rounds.

In closing his address, the speaker agreed that coast defence work was expensive. It was a type of insurance though, the only type that seemed to be of any use in "this mad world today."

H. Hamilton Harman was in the chair.

Logan Mayhew was introduced as a new member of the club.

'Rough' Husband Found Sewing

Police dashed out, without regard to speed limits on an errand of mercy last night.

"Come at once. My husband is beating and abusing me," was the substance of the message headquarters received from a hysterical wife.

The two policemen arrived at the home and found a husband sitting quietly on the chesterfield sewing steadily away at some children's clothes.

"I tell my wife I should not have to do this. Sewing the children's clothes should be her job. I do it because she won't," he told the officers sorrowfully. "I never hit her. I never touched her," he added. The wife showed no marks of having been struck. The police went back to headquarters.

BASIL HORSFALL GOING TO ENGLAND

Will Conduct International Grand Opera Company For Six Months

Basil Horsfall, musical director of the Victoria Grand Opera Association, has received a cable from England, informing him of his appointment as guest conductor and musical director of the International Grand Opera Company. This organization had its beginning three years ago and among its members are prominent singers with the Royal Covent Garden Opera, the Beecham and Carl Rosa Opera Companies.

The International is at present on tour and after some weeks' engagements in the North of England will cross to Ireland for performances at Belfast, Dublin and other cities.

It is a quarter of a century since Mr. Horsfall conducted in the Old Country, where he had a prominent place with grand opera companies. He has conducted in America for over 10 years. One of his greatest successes on this side of the water was the picture "Alf's Button," which netted him a considerable sum of money.

In going to England for at least six months, Mr. Horsfall hopes to create a recruiting ground in the city for positions in the International Grand Opera Company.

In the meantime, with Mrs. Horsfall remaining to act as vocal coach, the local opera company will continue to give the usual monthly concerts with excerpts from opera, and rehearsals for a performance of Audran's "La Poupée," next spring. Mr. Horsfall sails on the Queen Mary, November 4.

LEBOURDAIS FINDS 'HAYSEEDS WISE'

The Persians had a word for it and the joke was on the cartoonist when he jested at the farmer and portrayed him with a sprig of alfalfa (or hay) in his mouth. For the farmer knew something and was not telling.

Louis LeBourdais told it to members of the British Columbia Legislature yesterday when he seconded the address in reply to the speech from the throne.

Alfalfa has "blos," the member for the Cariboo said, apparently a form of horticultural "it." Though "blos" is not closely defined it is a close relative to a vitamin and packs a punch in all its forms. In making alcoholic drinks, for instance, a spot of alfalfa meal or extract sets the yeast to work and stimulates fermentation.

Alfalfa in the Persian meant "the best fodder," and "have you had your alfalfa today," said Mr. LeBourdais, will be the advertising slogan of the future.

SUNDAY SCHOOL TEACHERS MEET

Baptist, Anglican, United Church, Salvation and Grace Lutheran Sunday school workers were present at a recent Children's Leaders Institute meeting held in the Y.W.C.A. It was reported at a meeting of the executive last night at the First United Church.

Smith, United, the nursery, and Miss Wilma Gardner the primary department. The secretarial report of the Leaders' Council will be prepared by Mun Hope.

A mailing list of Sunday school workers in all the churches of Greater Victoria is being prepared, it was announced.

British Film At Oak Bay

'Dishonor Bright' Presents T. Walls And Diana Churchill

Tom Walls, gay philanthropist of the British screen, is the romantic victim of circumstances in "Dishonor Bright" at the Oak Bay Theatre today.
This time his innocent friendship with a misunderstood wife is misconstrued by the husband and the judge, and he finds himself with $25,000 damages and a pretty girl on his hands.
Diana Churchill is the girl in question, and it is not to be wondered at when this screen Don Juan marries her. Marriage being an unusual screen pastime for Tom Walls, he walks into the first adventure that offers itself and is distressed to find that it concerns a lady whose husband has forbidden her to speak to him.

'Room Service' At Dominion

With its triple theme of interrupted romance, wild hilarity and shady financial dealings, "Room Service" comes to the Dominion Theatre tomorrow with the Marx Brothers.
The mirthful plot deals with the ingenious ruses and stratagems used by a penniless theatrical producer to keep himself, two assistant maniacs and a cast of 22 in his new play, in a fashionable hostelry until he can procure an "angel" to finance his production.

Through a welter of action and laughter runs a romance between Frank Albertson and Ann Miller. Lucille Ball has the other feminine lead, and Chico and Harpo Marx portray the resourceful assistants of Groucho, the harassed producer.

HOW TO BUY BY GRADE

When ordering your eggs, poultry, canned fruits and vegetables, and creamery butter, ask for the quality you want, by grade — then look for the grade mark on your purchase. When you buy by grade, you buy with confidence.

EGGS
The Government grades of Eggs are: GRADE "A", GRADE "B", GRADE "C"
GRADE A (three sizes): Large, Medium, Pullet; best quality, suitable for poaching, boiling, frying; GRADE B, good quality, slightly inferior to Grade A for poaching, boiling, frying, but entirely suitable for cooking purposes;
GRADE C, lowest graded quality; (Grade A1, Large, Medium, Pullet, finest quality fresh eggs from Government inspected flocks, are available in limited quantities in certain localities.) Grade names are marked clearly on egg containers.

POULTRY
The Government grades of Poultry are: GRADE "A", GRADE "B", GRADE "C"
GRADE A, superb birds, well-bred, especially fattened for tenderness and flavour; GRADE B, good birds but not as well-fleshed, fattened or flavoured as Grade A;
GRADE C, lowest graded quality. Graded poultry may be identified readily by a coloured tag on the wing or breast of the bird — Red for Grade A — Blue for B — Yellow for C.

CANNED FRUITS AND VEGETABLES
The Government grades of Canned Fruits and Vegetables are: FANCY QUALITY - CHOICE QUALITY - STANDARD QUALITY
FANCY QUALITY, packed from a selection of the best fruit and vegetables available; practically uniform in maturity and free from blemishes; uniform in size and colour, canned at the proper time, so that excellence of flavour and appearance may be preserved.
CHOICE QUALITY, packed from fruit and vegetables selected for tenderness and flavour. Not as uniform as "Fancy Quality"; allows slight variation in size, colour and maturity.
STANDARD QUALITY, packed from fruit and vegetables of good quality but not necessarily meeting the higher grade requirements as to size, colour and maturity.

CREAMERY BUTTER
The Government grades of Creamery Butter are: FIRST GRADE - SECOND GRADE - THIRD GRADE
FIRST GRADE—highest quality; excellent flavour; well made; smooth, waxy texture; uniform in colour.
SECOND GRADE—usually inferior in flavour, texture or colour.
THIRD GRADE—inferior to second grade in flavour, texture or colour.

Notable Screen Comedy Here

'You Can't Take It With You' Featured at Capitol

Frank Capra and Robert Riskin delivered their most entertaining screen comedy, "You Can't Take It With You," to the Capitol Theatre today. Difficult as the feat seems to be, these unerring collaborators have exceeded even their former film masterpieces—"It Happened One Night," "Mr. Deeds Goes to Town," "Lost Horizon" and the others.
"You Can't Take It With You" is a picturization of the Pulitzer prize-winning stage play by George S. Kaufman and Moss Hart. The stage play's delightful drolleries and farcical fun have been retained to a large degree while a generous measure of comedy-drama and a few dashes of sentiment have been added to give verisimilitude to the motivation. The result is a superbly gratifying picture, interwoven with romance and genuine emotion.
An all-star cast turns in a gallery of impeccable performances. Jean Arthur, Lionel Barrymore, James Stewart, Edward Arnold, Mischa Auer and Spring Byington are especially worthy of mention. Equally sharing honors are Ann Miller, Donald Meek, Dub Taylor, Halliwell Hobbes, H. B. Warner, Mary Forbes and Samuel S. Hinds.

'The Crowd Roars' On Atlas Screen
A movie in the real sense of the word, so packed with action that it keeps the audience on the edge of its seats is "The Crowd Roars," Robert Taylor's stellar triumph, screening at the Atlas Theatre tomorrow.
And it is a triumph for Taylor, for he provides the surprise of the year in his first prize-fight role, giving more verisimilitude to the character of Tommy "Killer" McCoy than probably any other film player who ever essayed a fight part.

TORONTO (CP)—The Earl and Countess of Broomhall, Dunfermline, Scotland, and their daughter, Lady Martha Bruce, with Lord and Lady Middleton of Malton, Yorkshire, England, will be guests at Royal Winter Fair here in November. The Earl is a grandson of a former Governor-General of upper Canada. Lord Middleton will judge hunter classes at the fair.

main stumbling blocks in the way of naval attacks.
Harold Alexander's goal from Alex Murray's pass after 15 minutes gave the City the opening goal. After that they fell back to hold off the pressing sailors. Louis DeCosta, who has not played for some weeks owing to an injured ankle, was rushed back in between the sticks, and his brother, Eddie, was placed on the forward line, to give that line greater strength. It was he who got the equalizer before the half.
Navy guns hammered for half an hour around the City goal area in the second half before Geddes fired the ball in between the sticks to give his teammates their first lead. DeCosta's goal shortly before the end iced the fixture for the naval brigade.
Obey referred.
Teams follow:

SOO YONG IN EMPIRE SHOW
Miss Soo Yong, known as "China's Cornelia Otis Skinner," is appearing at the Empire Theatre tonight under the auspices of Canadian Friends of China. Miss Yong, a young and beautiful Chinese girl, played the parts of the Ancient One and the Aunt in the motion picture, "The Good Earth." She also appeared in such major productions as "The Painted Veil," "China Seas" and "Mad Holiday."
Appearing in her own original monologues, which sparkle with wit and satire, and in authentic costume-dramas translated from ancient Chinese, her performance will be highly entertaining and instructive.
The program includes: Excerpts from Chinese opera, "Hoong Ngan Nee," scene in a modern Chinese home; "The Rainbow Mountain Pass," Chinese historical drama; celebrity luncheon, some people I have met.
P.S.—Don't forget to fill the Chest.

Master Charged With Negligence

Board Finds North Coast Traveled at Excessive Speed

SEATTLE, Wash. (CP)—Capt. Andrew J. Borkland, master of the steamship North Coast, which hit and sank the Canadian motorship Coaster, was charged with negligence in "traveling at an excessive rate of speed in fog" after hearing by a bureau of marine inspection and navigation board yesterday.

Launching of a lifeboat within two minutes prevented loss of life when the North Coast hit and sank the Coaster in fog two months ago, Capt. Borkland testified.

Capt. Borkland said two of the Coaster's crew climbed up a line thrown to them and the five others were promptly picked up.

The Coaster sank with $30,000 worth of gold concentrates aboard off Point No Point, Puget Sound.

Off. Monsaas, North Coast's pilot, corroborated Capt. Borkland's testimony that the Coaster's whistle blast sounded "more like a squawk than a whistle."

He said the captain had stopped the ship a few minutes previously to allow two other vessels to pass in the fog.

Air Postage Rates To North Reduced

OTTAWA (CP)—Reduction of postage rates on newspapers and periodicals carried by air to outlying northern districts where there is "no alternative surface mail service" was announced today by Hon. W. D. Euler, acting Postmaster-General.

The new rates, effective November 1, will be one cent for two ounces or a fraction of two ounces. In the case of publishers and newsdealers this may be calculated on the total weight of their mailings.

The reductions amount to 50 per cent in many cases. The rates established in the Mackenzie River Valley October 1 were 12 cents a pound up to 10 pounds, $1.50 a pound from 10 to 15 pounds, $2 a pound from 15 to 20 pounds and $2.50 a pound from 20 to 25. The rates varied in other districts from 15 cents to $1.20 a pound.

Mr. Euler's announcement said previous rates created a hardship for persons residing in outlying areas and depending heavily on papers and magazines for entertainment.

Persons coming out of the north to Edmonton early this week complained bitterly of the October 1 rates, claiming they would make it impossible for some northerners to read newspapers.

Infant Flown To Hospital Dies

VANCOUVER (CP)—Martin Dahl, seven-month-old boy who was rushed to a hospital here by airplane Tuesday from Alert Bay, B.C., died yesterday from pneumonia and spinal meningitis.

Pilot Howard MacDonald fought head winds, rain and fog to bring the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. M. Dahl of Port McNeill, B.C., to the hospital here.

The boy had previously been taken from Port McNeill to near Alert Bay for medical attention. It was then found he would have to be taken to a hospital and a call was sent out for an airplane to bring him to Vancouver.

The Asia is scheduled to sail from Vancouver at 11 Saturday morning, will reach here at 4 in the afternoon and clear at 5.30 for Yokohama.

The outbound liner's passengers will include Henry Merlich, president of Merlich and Company, importers, en route to Yokohama; Sisters St. Kenneth and Mary Vanney of the Grey Nuns, Pembroke, Ont., and four Dames de Saint Maures; Sister Genevieve Flaherty, France; Sister Angelina Seghezzi, Italy; Sister Santina Parretti, Italy; and Sister Sophie Kalinowska, Austria.

CRUISER LAUNCHED

Built by Jack Gilbert at the Gorge for A. H. F. Stelck, businessman of Dauphin, Man., who resides at Royal Oak, the 35-foot motor cruiser Jessie Ann was launched at 4 yesterday afternoon from the drydock wharf at Esquimalt.

The craft, which is powered by a 90-horsepower "Sea Prince" Kermath engine, was christened by Mrs. Stelck as it was lowered into the water by the drydock crane. Mr. and Mrs. Stelck plan to leave shortly on the Jessie Ann for a cruise to Seattle, Vancouver and Powell River.

Mr. Stelck is president of Stelck's Ltd., hardware dealers, of Dauphin, Man. The light will be adjusted as soon as possible.

COAST LIGHT OUT

Col. A. W. R. Wilby, Department of Transport agent, advises mariners that the unwatched light on Richards Point, Nanaimo Bay, is reported not burning. The light will be adjusted as soon as possible.

CANADA ON LAST LAP

At Honolulu from Yokohama today, Ss. Empress of Canada, Capt. William T. Kinley, will sail from the Hawaiian port tomorrow, reaching Victoria early next Wednesday morning.

The Canadian Pacific liner is bringing in a large list of passengers from the Orient with more travelers embarking at Honolulu.

Notable among the saloon passengers is Hon. R. Randolph Bruce, Canadian minister to Japan, who is returning home from Tokyo with Mrs. Bruce.

LUMBER EXPORT LULL

With the departure of Ss. Norman Monarch at 5 yesterday afternoon for Port Alberni, a break in the lumber activity at the Ogden Point assembly plant was noticeable today. Longshore crews will take things easy until Monday next, when Ss. Tiltington Coast will arrive from sea to stow a lumber cargo.

King Bros. received word this morning that the Tiltington Coast would make port on Sunday, and announced the ship would start work Monday morning.

Other Court ships due here next month for United Kingdom loading are Ss. Wellington Court, booked for November 2, and Ss. Rossington Court.

RODEO FOR SYDNEY

Canadian cowboys, cowgirls, Indians, chuck wagons, bulldozers and all other elements of the wild west rodeo will sail from this port next spring for Australia to participate in the annual Easter show of the Royal Agricultural Society of Sydney.

A. W. Skidmore, assistant secretary of the great Australian fair, announced prior to sailing by the liner Niagara last night that he had signed contracts with four women brocho-busters, three crack Canadian riders and other entertainers for the Sydney show.

The rodeo will be transported to Sydney early next year by a Canadian-Australian ship. T. B. Macfarlane, a member of the council of the Royal Agricultural Society, and Mr. Skidmore made a tour of the United States and Canada seeking talent for the fair.

Between 60 and 70 Jewish refugees from Germany, seeking freedom from persecution in a friendly country, sailed from Victoria last night by the Niagara for Australia.

The group was composed mostly of professional people who were well-to-do before they came under the Nazi yoke, but they were short of most of their possessions before they were permitted to leave Germany.

Looking forward with renewed hope to the new life in Australia, they expressed amazement at the democratic freedom they had found in Canada. Members of the local Jewish fraternity were at the boat to greet the refugees.

Will Not Race Again in U.S.

Bluenose's Skipper Prepared to Meet Thebaud in Canadian Waters

BOSTON (AP)—Satisfied with the conduct of the Bluenose in her victory yesterday, Capt. Angus Walters declared the Bluenose would never again race in the United States as long as he was her master.

"I've sailed through many a tough storm, but this was the hardest sail of them all," he said, reviewing the arguments which marked the competition. "We were frightened, not of the Thebaud, but of the arguments we would have to face every day."

"I never want to sail here again. But if the Thebaud ever wants to come and race off Canada, we'll meet her at the starting line."

Wheat

WINNIPEG (CP)—Trade on the Winnipeg grain market completed its fifth consecutive day in the doldrums today and wheat futures prices declined narrowly. Weakness in outside markets and lack of interest locally again were largely responsible for the 1/4 to 1/2 cent dip. October closed at 59, November 58 1/2, December 58 1/2, and May 61 cents.

Export business was unconfirmed but was believed light. Indifference at Liverpool reflected on the Winnipeg market.

Liverpool closed 1 1/2 to 1/4 lower. Expectation of an early harvest in the southern hemisphere helped the decline. Broomhill reported cutting was under way in sections of New South Wales in Australia.

Buenos Aires was off 1/4 to 1/2 cent at noon.

Country marketings yesterday totaled 1,695,000 bushels against 787,000 bushels the corresponding day a year ago.

Cash wheat trade was dull. Pit trade in coarse grains followed the drab trend. Price range was narrow.

IX—THE ETHIOPIAN CRISIS

"War is not always a bad thing," said Mussolini. "We must build a strong nation, a fighting nation. We must train our boys to be soldiers."

Haile Selassie signing law to end slave-trading in Ethiopia.

One reason Mussolini wanted soldiers was to carry out his dream of empire. He ruled in Rome, the city where Julius Caesar once had been the master of the western world. It is believed he hoped to become a second Caesar, the master of all the land around the Mediterranean sea.

Italy already owned Libya, a big colony in northern Africa, also smaller African colonies, but they were not enough. Looking over the African map, Mussolini could see that most of the land was in the hands of France and Great Britain. Both those nations had good-sized navies, so he did not care to open a war with them — but in northwestern Africa there was a country without much power to defend itself.

That country was Ethiopia. It had an area of 350,000 square miles, making it larger than France and Italy combined. The people, however, numbered only about 10,000,000, and they were ill-prepared to fight a war with a nation like Italy.

Seldom has a war been planned so coldly and cruelly as the one Mussolini fought against Ethiopia. People all over the earth heard about it before it started. Almost everywhere they were sorry for the Ethiopians, who did not seem able to last long against a nation which could hurl down a rain of death from airplanes, and could send armored cars and soldiers with modern weapons toward the capital city.

The people of Italy were told something else. Mussolini said the Ethiopians kept slaves, and that the slaves ought to be set free. This was in face of the fact that Haile Selassie, Ethiopian emperor, long before had signed a law against slave-trading. Slaves had not been taken from all those who had owned them, but no one was allowed to buy or sell slaves, and the slave system was on its way out.

Of course, Mussolini cared little, if anything, about the slaves. What he wanted was some sort of excuse to give to his people, so they would not feel it wrong to make war on Ethiopia.

Learning about the coming war, Great Britain did all that seemed possible to stop it. Mussolini was asked to let the dispute go before the League of Nations, but he gave the order, and the war went ahead. One of Italy's colonies was next door to Ethiopia. There was a "border clash" in December, 1934, and in 1935 Italian soldiers were marching into Ethiopia. Meanwhile, excitement grew at Geneva, Switzerland. It seemed likely that the League of Nations would do something to halt the invasion.

Dorothy Dix's Letter Box

DEAR MISS DIX—Is it proper for girls to call their employers by their given names? When I call my husband I can hear the phone girl say: "Jim, your wife wants you." When we go out and meet any girl in his employ she will call out: "Hello, Jim." I claim that business and familiarity do not mix and that these girls would not act that way if he was not familiar with them. What would my husband think if every clerk I met called out: "Hi, Mary," to me?

A DISGUSTED WIFE.

Answer: It is certainly very bad form and detracts from an employer's dignity for him to address his girl employees by their first names or to permit them to call him by his. Even when a man's sister works for him they should Mister and Miss each other in business hours. But you are taking the matter entirely too seriously. Probably your husband's freedom with his employees means nothing except that he is one of the half-fellow-well-met sort who treats every one with familiarity.

DEAR MISS DIX—What can be done to compel a man almost 50 to assume the responsibility for the support of his family? He has an A-1 education, general and professional, yet for five years he has done nothing but sit and reflect what a cruel world it is. He makes no effort to make a living.

BAFFLED.

Answer: If a man lacks energy and initiative, there is no way to supply it artificially to him. Laziness is the most incurable of all vices. The only people who have profited by the depression are those to whom it has furnished an alibi for not working.

Roosevelt Scores Aggression

Speech Interpreted as Meaning U.S. Will Oppose Dictatorships Unless They Move Toward Permanent Peace

By ANDRE BERDING — Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON — President Roosevelt indicated a stiffened foreign policy for the United States today while the State Department was warning Japan against crippling American interests in China.

The note to Tokyo called bluntly for protection of the open door policy in China.

President Roosevelt's radio address last night, in the opinion of students of world affairs here, again threw the administration against the dictatorships.

Mr. Roosevelt gave an indication his government does not quarrel with dictatorships as such and does not seek to proselytize them to the ranks of democracy.

Its quarrel, he said, is with governments which rely on force in pursuit of policy. The fact the dictatorships have been relying on force, as in the case of Italy in Ethiopia and Japan in China, or the threat of it, as in the case of Germany in Czechoslovakia, makes the two ideas coincide.

WORDS TO GERMANY

There are many in Washington who regard words part of the President's speech as an indictment of Germany. They read into his statement "there can be no peace by fear," references to the Czech crisis, Jewish refugees, the German campaign against Protestant and Catholic churches, and Nazi economic principles.

One generally accepted conclusion from the President's speech is that he will oppose the dictatorships unless they are willing to take definite steps toward a permanent peace. During the recent German-Czech crisis the President sought to maintain a wholly neutral position, appealing from an objective vantage point to both the democratic and the dictator states for peace.

The President's speech, on the other hand, extended the administration's good neighbor policy to the world—but warned the "other fellow" to be a good neighbor too.

One of the obligations, he said, is to make necessary political changes peacefully; another is respect for the sanctity of treaties; a third is avoidance of policies arousing fear.

REQUEST TO MEXICO

In the admonition that the good neighbor policy must be reciprocal, the President may also have had Mexico in mind. In that case, it would mean that Mexico, in return for the help she had received from the United States through silver purchases and through the bolstering of her currency, should reciprocate by paying for American properties she was expropriating.

Many persons here saw in the President's speech another hint of heavy demands for armaments appropriations at the next session of Congress. The United States, he made clear, is not disposed to limit armaments unless there are actual discussions among nations for a disarmament agreement.

In other words, the United States will continue its arms expansion program until the big powers actually have sat down at a disarmament conference table and are ready to sign on the dotted line.

The President, in his speech from the White House in connection with the New York Herald Tribune Forum on Current Problems, served notice on the world that the United States would protect the western hemisphere from foreign interference. It was his first pronouncement on American foreign policy since the Czechoslovak crisis.

SPEECHES TIMED

The President's address, followed others by his predecessor, Herbert Hoover, who at the gathering in New York urged the United States to initiate resumption of world economic conferences as a vital step towards peace, and Viscount Halifax, the British Foreign Minister, who from London urged the United States to join hands with Great Britain in establishing world peace.

And without mentioning either the Munich conference which averted war over the partitioning of Czechoslovakia or measures taken against racial groups in certain European countries, the President arranged conditions under which there can "be no peace."

"It is becoming increasingly clear," he said, "that peace by fear has no higher or more enduring quality than peace by the sword."

"There can be no peace if the reign of law is to be replaced by a recurrent sanctification of sheer force."

"There can be no peace, if humble men and women are not free to think their own thoughts, to express their own feelings, to worship God."

The United States, the President said, "does not seek to impose on any other people either our way or life or our internal form of government. But we are determined to maintain and protect that way of life and that form of government for our selves."

CHIANG TO URGE FIGHT CONTINUE

Manifesto To Be Issued Calling for Unceasing Resistance

By DONALD DEVIES Associated Press Foreign Staff

CHUNGKING, China — High political quarters today said General Chiang Kai-shek, China's leader, would issue a manifesto Saturday urging increasing resistance to Japan and stating his reasons for continuing the war. The quarterly national political council session will open here, now the temporary capital, on Saturday and Chiang's manifesto and the attitude of Communist delegates are awaited with deep interest.

The political council of 180 members is a cross-section of China's geographical, commercial and educational groups.
